U.S. Bombers Pulverize Foe In 'Iron Triangle'

Asks Army To Crush Them

Mao Ultimatum Issued To Foes

TOKYO (AP) — Mao Tse-tung has delivered an ultimatum to his enemies, called on the army to help crush them and obtained pledges of loyalty from military units throughout China, organs under his control reported today.

There was no indication Mao's opponents were buckling under the pressure. Peking Radio said that Mao has ordered complete reorganization of the "cultural revolutionary committee" of the armed forces, a possible indication of military opposition to Mao despite the claimed pledges of support.

The new turn in the Chinese Communist party chairman's seething struggle with the party faction headed by President Liu Shao-chi coincided with an admission that there has been fighting in Shanghai. Mao, 73, ordered the city quarantined and all travel in and out limited.

The appeal to the army — and the reported swift response — also suggested that the 2.5-million-man armed forces may be wavering in their loyalty to Mao and Defense Minister Lin Piao, his No. 1 ally and nominally in control of the army.

The army's declaration of loyalty followed an editorial in the Peking People's Daily and the theoretical journal Red Flag — both controlled by Mao — which warned Liu's faction "to make a final reconsideration immediately and surrender to the revolutionary people."

On the heels of this ultimatum — which used the word "final" for the first time — four important official bodies dominated by Mao issued a directive calling on the army, the party, the government and the people throughout the nation "to take concerted action and to beat back the new counterattack of the bourgeois reactionary line."

Until now, the army has been carrying out its own purge as part of the so-called "great proletarian cultural revolution." Its injection into the civilian purge was considered an apparent indication that Mao's position has been seriously weakened by the rash of strikes, walkouts, violent clashes and sabotage which have swept the country in the past three weeks.

The fact that he made a public appeal to the army rather than issuing a simple order hinted at the possibility that a number of army units are no longer under Lin's control. It had been taken for granted that Lin's sway over the armed forces was complete.

West Virginia Tax Increase Seen Certain

Legislative Leaders Accuse Gov. Smith Of 'Passing Buck'

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia legislators knuckled down to the weighty business of the new 60-day session today with leaders certain there will be a tax increase this year.

There also was some grumbling in Republican and Democratic back rooms that Gov. Hulett Smith had "passed the buck" on money matters.

Legislators complained that the governor left the legislature alone in finding a way to support his "Grand Program" for '67, outlined in his 55-minute "State of the State" address Wednesday.

Senate President Howard W. Carson declared a tax increase of sorts is inevitable. Several other legislators either concurred or called for drastic cuts in Smith's spending program.

Just where the extra taxes will be levied will not be certain until the legislature is deeper into the session. But sentiment appears more in favor of tapping corporations for most of it, rather than individuals.

"I don't know how we can get away without an increase in taexs if we're going to follow" the program outlined by Smith, Carson said.

"We're going to have to have a substantial increase in revenues to pay for these things," Carson declared.

Among the major spending programs suggested by Smith were:

— Free tuition for all West Virginia high school graduates for two years at the state-supported colleges and universities.

— Increasing by unspecified amounts unemployment compensation and workmen's compensation benefits.

— Statewide kindergarten system.

— A "substantial increase" in State Police manpower.

Along other lines, Smith called for a substantial reorganization in government to wipe out the present State Road Commission and create a wider-ranging department of transportation.

This would absorb the Motor Vehicles Department, State Aeronautics Commission and some Public Service Commission duties.

Some legislators objected to Smith's passing off the task of finding money to finance planned expansion of current programs as well as adding the new.

ELHS Presents Its Side In Salem Football Break

A clarification of events leading up to the breaking off of football relations between East Liverpool and Salem high schools was presented today in a comprehensive report on the matter by officials here.

The statement was issued by High School Principal Clifford Lynch in his capacity as chairman of the ELHS Athletic Board.

LYNCH explained the action as follows:

"I feel that because an indictment was made by Salem High School in an article appearing in the Salem News Dec. 21 and the East Liverpool Review Dec. 22 concerning East Liverpool High School students, East Liverpool fans, and the East Liverpool police force, I should make some clarification of the entire situation as I see it.

"You will recall that Salem played East Liverpool here on Nov. 5, 1965. From Nov. 5, 1965, until June 8, 1966, East Liverpool officials were not aware that any problems had arisen during the game. In fact, Carl F. Pelini, then principal of the high school, and Harry McConville, a member of the East Liverpool Board of Education, attended the Potters - Salem basketball game in Salem in January 1966. At this game, both gentlemen were treated very well and talked at great length with Salem officials. Never once did the Salem officials mention any mistreatment at the East Liverpool - Salem football game. On June 8, 1966, Pelini received a letter from Wayne R. Grinnen, chairman of the Salem High School Athletic Advisory Board, stipulating five areas of concern."

THE "AREAS of concern," which referred to the Nov. 5, 1965, game here, were:

"1. — Salem was not given an opportunity to approve the game officials. This was not in keeping with regulations of the Ohio High School Athletic Association.

"2. — Policing was not sufficient to maintain good order in the stands.

"3. — Proper protection was not afforded Salem's band, which was jostled while entering and leaving the field and even while sitting in their bleachers at the end of the field.

"4. — The Quaker banner, which was placed on the wall in front of the Salem cheerleaders, was pulled off the wall and trampled three different times by young adults. The police ignored the request of the cheerleaders' adviser for assistance.

"5. — The heterogenious seating of home town and visiting fans leads to crowd difficulties."

The letter went on to point out that items 2, 3 and 4 "are contrary to regulations of the Ohio High School Athletic Association."

It continued: "While the Salem - East Liverpool rivalry and friendship has always been a fine thing in the past we feel that to go back to East Liverpool under the same conditions as last fall would be subject-

LBJ's Tax Boost Plan Sidetracked

Congress Clearing Way For Study Of Aged Benefits Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is clearing the track for early consideration of President Johnson's proposals for Social Security benefit increases.

But his request for a 6 per cent Vietnam war income tax surcharge has been switched to a siding, to sit perhaps until April — or, as some members frankly hoped, indefinitely.

The House Ways and Means Committee is expected to announce next week that hearings will begin in early February on the proposed 20 per cent average increase in Social Security benefits.

Committees and the House meanwhile will be acting on an increase in the $330-billion debt ceiling, against which the Treasury has been scraping, and on a special appropriation bill, mostly for Vietnam expenses, totaling probably more than $10 billion.

Johnson's announcement last year that he would propose Social Security benefit increases got a warm bipartisan reception. But the size of the increase he suggested Tuesday night in his State of the Union message produced some head shaking.

The President proposed increasing minimum payments from $44 to $70 a month, an increase of at least 15 per cent for all 23 million persons receiving payments, and liberalization of the rule on the amount a retired person may earn without reducing his pension.

He also proposed extending medicare, now confined to those 65 or older, to all recipients of

Officials File To Make Bids At Primaries

Two incumbent Republican officials in East Liverpool and Wellsville filed Wednesday with the County Election Board to seek renomination at the May 2 primaries.

Both seeking second terms, they are Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger of East Liverpool and Solicitor Delmar T. O'Hara of Wellsville.

Zollinger is serving in the final year of a four - year term to which he was named in 1963, taking office Jan. 1, 1964. He retired in 1961 from the cost accounting department at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., where he was employed 37½ years.

He and his wife, Elizabeth, reside at 108½ W. 5th St. Zollinger has a son, William, in Long Beach, Calif., and a step-son, Robert Watkin, in Huntington Beach, Calif. He is a member of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church and Elks Lodge 258. He also is an adviser to the Columbiana County Cerebral Palsy Association, secretary - treasurer of the East Liverpool Little League and president of the City Employes Credit Union. He served as City Council clerk in 1962 and 1963.

Under a recent change in state law, O'Hara will be running for a four - year term. City solicitor's terms formerly were for two years.

Married and the father of five children, he is engaged in the practice of law at Wellsville. His partner is William J. Telzrow.

O'Hara served as a state representative from Columbiana County in 1951-55 and was Salineville village solicitor from 1953 to 1947.

Ambassador Returning To Vietnam

Lodge Sees Drop In U.S. Casualties During 1967

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge is about to return to his post in Saigon. In this exclusive interview, he gives his views on the outlook for 1967, the impact of the bombing of North Vietnamese targets, the results of the American military action in terms of world peace.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge predicted today a downturn in the percentage of American casualties in Vietnam this year.

"The war would be pretty nearly over," Lodge added, once success is achieved in wiping out the threat from hard-core terrorists to Vietnamese villagers. But he gave no date on when he thought this slower, pacification task might be completed.

Lodge spoke in an interview with The Associated Press prior to his departure for Saigon Saturday after a month in the United States on home leave and consultation.

He met Wednesday with President Johnson. Afterward, he told reporters U.S. forces may win military victory over organized Red troops this year but this would not automatically end the war.

As Lodge outlined it in his interview, there are actually four kinds of war being fought in South Vietnam — the conventional military operation against large units, weeding out terrorists, development of a constitutional political system which is under way, and the economic battle in which inflation has been successfully "staved off" at this point.

U.S. troops have been searching out Viet Cong and North Vietnamese army units. The American forces now total around 400,000 and they have been suffering about 100 killed a week.

"I believe the purely military part of the war — which is what the Americans are engaged in — will make tremendous progress in 1967 and that the percentage of American casualties will start declining," Lodge said.

"The weeding out of the terrorists, however, takes longer," he added. "It is almost wholly a job for the Vietnamese.

"Until this is done and until local political institutions are constructed under which a police program and an economic and social program can be conducted, Vietnam cannot stand by itself and will continue to require help."

Lodge figured that a few thousand "hard-core terrorists" command some 150,000 "rank and file terrorists" and that the hard core leaders are responsible for forcing young villagers into service with the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese units.

"If, therefore, we are successful at ferreting out and eliminating the hard-core terrorists and establishing the villagers' confidence in their government's ability to assure their security," he said, "impressment of young males would cease and the war would be pretty nearly over."

Here are some of the questions asked Lodge, along with his answers:

Q. What does the bombing of the North accomplish? Does it harm civilians more than the military?

A. The bombing of the North very severely harasses the Viet Cong line of communication whereby it supports its forces which are combatting aggres-

GIs Uncover More Viet Cong Camps

Enemy Dead Rises To 200, 40 Others Captured In Drive

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — American jet bombers pulverized the "iron triangle" with repeated strikes today while on the ground armor-led U.S. troops uncovered more Viet Cong base camps and large caches of enemy rice.

As the war's biggest ground sweep carried through its fifth day, U.S. headquarters reported the count of Communist dead rose to nearly 200 with 40 prisoners taken in the drive to clear the jungles 20 to 30 miles north of Saigon.

The U.S. air offensive over North Vietnam continued at a low pace because of persistent bad weather and ground action in South Vietnam also subsided into small and scattered clashes, except in the iron triangle.

Official weekly casualty reports released today showed drops in American and Vietnamese killed or wounded for the first week of the new year.

U.S. headquarters said 67 Americans were killed in combat in the week ending last Saturday compared with 128 the previous week. American wounded were listed at 479 last week as against 634 a week earlier. South Vietnamese headquarters said 120 government troops were killed in the week ending last Saturday compared with 146 the previous week.

The U.S. command also reported that American troop strength in South Vietnam climbed by 6,000 last week to reach a high of 395,000 as of last Saturday.

In the massive sweep of the iron triangle called Operation Cedar Falls, U.S. F100 Super Sabre jet pilots reported strafing runs against Viet Cong snipers concealed in trees.

Other Air Force jets mounted 59 bombing runs on the triangle during the day to raise the total air strikes in the operation to 488.

On the ground, a task force led by the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment pushed deeper into the jungle, U.S. spokesmen reported. These troops along with others in the surrounded triangle seized 508 tons of enemy rice Wednesday and today to bring the haul so far to 1,306 tons. Also seized were 217 weapons. Ground forces reported uncovering five more Viet Cong base camps and destroying 10 bunkers in the last 24 hours.

U.S. spokesmen reported that evacuation of the triangle's Vietnamese peasants and villagers was continuing with 3,250 civilians already moved to resettlement centers.

The objective of the operation is to render useless the jungle headquarters and staging area from where the Viet Cong has menaced Saigon and vicinity with guerrilla attacks and terrorist activity.

To this end, all Vietnamese

LBJ's Pledge Against Crime Wins Praise

Plans Big-Scale Federal Aid For States And Cities

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson's promise of big-scale federal aid for states and cities in the fight against crime won plaudits from coast to coast today.

Many municipal officials said transfusions from the Treasury are the only answer to the rising cost of law enforcement.

Others declared that crime is a national problem and that Congress has an obligation to provide funds to help keep it in check.

A typical comment came from Police Commissioner Ray Girardin of Detroit, who said: "We have reached the point where the cities cannot adequately finance all police services that cities should have. I hope Congress will implement the program by making funds available.

"It's an uphill fight without it, but with this help I feel Detroit and other cities can get on top of the crime situation."

O.W. Wilson, superintendent of Chicago police, said the Pres-

Potter Picked For Vacancy As Patrolman

James Wesley Woods, 29, of 1228 Ceramic St., Pleasant Heights, a potter, was named to a police patrolman's post today by Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey.

Woods, now employed as a kiln - placer at the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., will report for duty Monday. He will fill the vacancy created Oct. 31 with the retirement of Patrolman Paul J. Lemal.

A native of Chester and a graduate of Chester High School, Woods has been employed at the pottery since 1955. He is married and the father of one child.

Woods is the second new officer to be named in four days by the director. Homer C. Dillon, 23, of 6th Ave., LaCroft, also will report for duty Monday — the start of a new city payroll period. Appointed Monday, he now is employed as a truck driver at the Golden Star Dairy Co.

Both Woods and Dillon were named from lists certified by the Municipal Civil Service Commission as a result of exams conducted in late December. Patrolmen begin work at $400 monthly and advance to $440.

The recent appointments still leave two vacancies on the force. The director indicated he expects to fill the jobs soon.

Bill Proposes Tax Break On Pollution Bid

Would Expand '65 Ohio Enactment On Control Facilities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio industries installing water pollution control facilities would get a further tax break under a bill now before the Ohio Legislature.

Sen. Howard C. Cook, R-1 Toledo, Lucas, introduced the measure Wednesday before the lawmakers ended their second straight abbreviated work week and headed home for weekend recess.

Cook said his bill simply would expand a 1965 enactment which exempted from the sales, property, and franchise taxes all pollution equipment installed under orders of the Water Pollution Control Board. He explained that his exemption also would cover equipment installed by industry voluntarily. The board only has jurisdiction over industries dumping wastes directly into the state waters.

Cook's bill was among eight new measures introduced in the upper chamber, bringing its total to 23. First bills are expected to be introduced in the House

Coast Guard Hunting 4 On Plane In Ocean

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Coast Guard continued an air and sea search today for four men aboard a converted World War II troop plane.

The twin engine, silver white and blue craft left Fort Lauderdale for Bimini Wednesday and bits of fuselage and landing gear were sighted later in the Atlantic west of Bimini, 60 miles off the Florida coast.

There was no sight of the four occupants, Charles Robert Lundgren, 44, of Paradise, Pa., the pilot; William Suiter of Fort Lauderdale, copilot; Larry Waplehorst, Hollywood motel owner, and Eugene Lamire, an Eastern Air Lines pilot from Miami.

Calls Prove To Be Hoax

'Bomb' Calls Stir Search At Oak Glen, Wellsville

Three anonymous bomb threats, two of them at Oak Glen and the third at Wellsville High School, have proved to be hoaxes, intensive searches of school property by authorities disclosing nothing.

The first call, received by the Hancock County sheriff's office at 10:07 p. m. Tuesday, warned a bomb was set to explode at Oak Glen. West Virginia state police were called in to assist and Oak Glen Principal Russell Slack was notified.

Three hours were spent combing the four-building "campus" at Oak Glen before officials abandoned the search, satisfied there was nothing unusual on the property.

At 11:45 Wednesday morning, a second call came to the Oak Glen office, notifying a secretary that "a bomb was set to go off at noon."

Police returned to the school and the building was cleared of its 760 students for another examination of the area. An hour later the pupils returned to classes after officials considered the buildings and grounds safe.

The final threat came at 11:15

Lodge spoke in an interview with The Associated Press prior to his departure for Saigon Saturday after a month in the United States on home leave and consultation.

He met Wednesday with President Johnson. Afterward, he told reporters U.S. forces may win military victory over organized Red troops this year but this would not automatically end the war.

As Lodge outlined it in his interview, there are actually four kinds of war being fought in South Vietnam — the conventional military operation against large units, weeding out terrorists, development of a constitutional political system which is under way, and the economic battle in which inflation has been successfully "staved off" at this point.

U.S. troops have been searching out Viet Cong and North Vietnamese army units. The American forces now total around 400,000 and they have been suffering about 100 killed a week.

"I believe the purely military part of the war — which is what the Americans are engaged in — will make tremendous progress in 1967 and that the percentage of American casualties will start declining," Lodge said.

"The weeding out of the terrorists, however, takes longer," he added. "It is almost wholly a job for the Vietnamese.

"Until this is done and until local political institutions are constructed under which a police program and an economic and social program can be conducted, Vietnam cannot stand by itself and will continue to require help."

Lodge figured that a few thousand "hard-core terrorists" command some 150,000 "rank and file terrorists" and that the hard core leaders are responsible for forcing young villagers into service with the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese units.

"If, therefore, we are successful at ferreting out and eliminating the hard-core terrorists and establishing the villagers' confidence in their government's ability to assure their security," he said, "impressment of young males would cease and the war would be pretty nearly over."

Here are some of the questions asked Lodge, along with his answers:

Q. What does the bombing of the North accomplish? Does it harm civilians more than the military?

A. The bombing of the North very severely harasses the Viet Cong line of communication whereby it supports its forces which are combatting aggres-

GIs Uncover More Viet Cong Camps

Enemy Dead Rises To 200, 40 Others Captured In Drive

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — American jet bombers pulverized the "iron triangle" with repeated strikes today while on the ground armor-led U.S. troops uncovered more Viet Cong base camps and large caches of enemy rice.

As the war's biggest ground sweep carried through its fifth day, U.S. headquarters reported the count of Communist dead rose to nearly 200 with 40 prisoners taken in the drive to clear the jungles 20 to 30 miles north of Saigon.

The U.S. air offensive over North Vietnam continued at a low pace because of persistent bad weather and ground action in South Vietnam also subsided into small and scattered clashes, except in the iron triangle.

Official weekly casualty reports released today showed drops in American and Vietnamese killed or wounded for the first week of the new year.

U.S. headquarters said 67 Americans were killed in combat in the week ending last Saturday compared with 128 the previous week. American wounded were listed at 479 last week as against 634 a week earlier. South Vietnamese headquarters said 120 government troops were killed in the week ending last Saturday compared with 146 the previous week.

The U.S. command also reported that American troop strength in South Vietnam climbed by 6,000 last week to reach a high of 395,000 as of last Saturday.

In the massive sweep of the iron triangle called Operation Cedar Falls, U.S. F100 Super Sabre jet pilots reported strafing runs against Viet Cong snipers concealed in trees.

Other Air Force jets mounted 59 bombing runs on the triangle during the day to raise the total air strikes in the operation to 488.

On the ground, a task force led by the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment pushed deeper into the jungle, U.S. spokesmen reported. These troops along with others in the surrounded triangle seized 508 tons of enemy rice Wednesday and today to bring the haul so far to 1,306 tons. Also seized were 217 weapons. Ground forces reported uncovering five more Viet Cong base camps and destroying 10 bunkers in the last 24 hours.

U.S. spokesmen reported that evacuation of the triangle's Vietnamese peasants and villagers was continuing with 3,250 civilians already moved to resettlement centers.

The objective of the operation is to render useless the jungle headquarters and staging area from where the Viet Cong has menaced Saigon and vicinity with guerrilla attacks and terrorist activity.

To this end, all Vietnamese

Archbishop Planning U.S. Tour This Fall

LONDON (AP) — The archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Arthur Michael Ramsey, will tour the United States at the end of September and early October, a spokesman for the Church of England information office said today.

Officials at Lambeth Palace, the archbishop's official residence, said details for the trip were still being worked out.

LBJ's Pledge Against Crime Wins Praise

Plans Big-Scale Federal Aid For States And Cities

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson's promise of big-scale federal aid for states and cities in the fight against crime won plaudits from coast to coast today.

Many municipal officials said transfusions from the Treasury are the only answer to the rising cost of law enforcement.

Others declared that crime is a national problem and that Congress has an obligation to provide funds to help keep it in check.

A typical comment came from Police Commissioner Ray Girardin of Detroit, who said: "We have reached the point where the cities cannot adequately finance all police services that cities should have. I hope Congress will implement the program by making funds available.

"It's an uphill fight without it, but with this help I feel Detroit and other cities can get on top of the crime situation."

O.W. Wilson, superintendent of Chicago police, said the Pres-

Coast Guard Hunting 4 On Plane In Ocean

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Coast Guard continued an air and sea search today for four men aboard a converted World War II troop plane.

The twin engine, silver white and blue craft left Fort Lauderdale for Bimini Wednesday and bits of fuselage and landing gear were sighted later in the Atlantic west of Bimini, 60 miles off the Florida coast.

There was no sight of the four occupants, Charles Robert Lundgren, 44, of Paradise, Pa., the pilot; William Suiter of Fort Lauderdale, copilot; Larry Waplehorst, Hollywood motel owner, and Eugene Lamire, an Eastern Air Lines pilot from Miami.

Potter Picked For Vacancy As Patrolman

James Wesley Woods, 29, of 1228 Ceramic St., Pleasant Heights, a potter, was named to a police patrolman's post today by Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey.

Woods, now employed as a kiln - placer at the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., will report for duty Monday. He will fill the vacancy created Oct. 31 with the retirement of Patrolman Paul J. Lemal.

A native of Chester and a graduate of Chester High School, Woods has been employed at the pottery since 1955. He is married and the father of one child.

Woods is the second new officer to be named in four days by the director. Homer C. Dillon, 23, of 6th Ave., LaCroft, also will report for duty Monday — the start of a new city payroll period. Appointed Monday, he now is employed as a truck driver at the Golden Star Dairy Co.

Both Woods and Dillon were named from lists certified by the Municipal Civil Service Commission as a result of exams conducted in late December. Patrolmen begin work at $400 monthly and advance to $440.

The recent appointments still leave two vacancies on the force. The director indicated he expects to fill the jobs soon.

Bill Proposes Tax Break On Pollution Bid

Would Expand '65 Ohio Enactment On Control Facilities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio industries installing water pollution control facilities would get a further tax break under a bill now before the Ohio Legislature.

Sen. Howard C. Cook, R-1 Toledo, Lucas, introduced the measure Wednesday before the lawmakers ended their second straight abbreviated work week and headed home for weekend recess.

Cook said his bill simply would expand a 1965 enactment which exempted from the sales, property, and franchise taxes all pollution equipment installed under orders of the Water Pollution Control Board. He explained that his exemption also would cover equipment installed by industry voluntarily. The board only has jurisdiction over industries dumping wastes directly into the state waters.

Cook's bill was among eight new measures introduced in the upper chamber, bringing its total to 23. First bills are expected to be introduced in the House

Calls Prove To Be Hoax

'Bomb' Calls Stir Search At Oak Glen, Wellsville

Three anonymous bomb threats, two of them at Oak Glen and the third at Wellsville High School, have proved to be hoaxes, intensive searches of school property by authorities disclosing nothing.

The first call, received by the Hancock County sheriff's office at 10:07 p.m. Tuesday, warned a bomb was set to explode at Oak Glen. West Virginia state police were called in to assist and Oak Glen Principal Russell Slack was notified.

Three hours were spent combing the four-building "campus" at Oak Glen before officials abandoned the search, satisfied there was nothing unusual on the property.

At 11:45 Wednesday morning, a second call came to the Oak Glen office, notifying a secretary that "a bomb was set to go off at noon."

Police returned to the school and the building was cleared of its 760 students for another examination of the area. An hour later the pupils returned to classes after officials considered the buildings and grounds safe.

The final threat came at 11:15

following adoption of rules slated for Monday night, said Speaker Charles F. Kurfess R-4 Wood.

Sens. Oakley C. Collins R-18 Lawrence and Oliver Ocasek D-27, Northfield, Summit, sponsored a high school driver training proposal which would be financed by boosting three - year driver license fees from $1 to $3.25 and learners' permits from 50 cents to $3.

They said the State School Board would be authorized to allocate at least $30 for training of each student driver from estimated revenue of $16 million over the first three-year period.

Two freshmen senators proposed $100-$500 a year state scholarships for "deserving," full-time college students starting next September.

Sens. Ralph S. Regular R-29 Navarra, Stark, and John H. Weeks R-25 Cleveland, Cuyahoga, said the scholarships would be available next year for freshmen and for those through their senior year by 1970.

Sen. Charles J. Carney D-33 Youngstown, Mahoning, introduced his total to seven since introductions began Monday night. He leads all lawmakers in the bill department so far.

The Youngstown Democrat's latest measures would relieve relatives of mental patients of financial responsibility—present law requires them to pay if they can—and set up a statewide minimum wage of $1.25 an hour.

Both chambers are expected to hold their first four-day work week beginning Monday after two weeks of three-day sessions.

Vietnam

civilians in the 60-square mile area are being moved out and resettled.

Thrown into the operations were major elements of two U.S. infantry divisions, two more brigades, an armored regiment, massed artillery battalions and several South Vietnamese infantry battalions — a total force estimated at more than 30,000 men.

U.S. casualties so far are reported light.

Elsewhere, the Viet Cong mounted a mortar and recoilless-rifle attack early today on the Binh Thuy airfield six miles northwest of Can Tho in the Mekong Delta.

The Communists rained approximately 50 shells on the field, U.S. headquarters said. A spokesman reported light damage to aircraft and the airfield, but said there were no casualties.

Also in the delta, U.S. Marines continued their so far unproductive sweep of the Thanh Phu Peninsula which began last Friday with a big amphibious landing and helicopter assault. The Marines reported finding and destroying more enemy bunkers in the mangrove swamps 55 miles south of Saigon but contact with the Viet Cong was no more than sniper fire. The Marines so far report eight enemy killed and 13 prisoners captured.

U.S. Air Force B52 bombers struck today at a Communist troop concentration and base camp area 17 miles west of the northern coastal city of Hue. This was the fourth B52 raid since January 1 on the area where U.S. Marines reported spotting 1,000 enemy troops on the move during the New Year's truce.

In the weather-curtailed air war over North Vietnam, U.S. pilots flew only 40 strike and reconnaissance missions Wednesday. Among the forays, Navy Phantom jets from the carrier Enterprise attacked two motorized cargo barges 37 miles northeast of Haiphong. Pilots reported sinking one barge and setting the other ablaze with rockets.

Navy fliers also reported damaging 10 other barges along North Vietnam's coastline and inland waterways. Air Force pilots struck at an oil storage depot six miles north of the Mu Gia Pass and reported three secondary explosions.

In air action over South Vietnam Wednesday, U.S. pilots flew 387 strike sorties and South Vietnamese pilots flew 79.

Threats

Wednesday night when Mrs. Lowell B. Myers, wife of the superintendent of Wellsville city schools, received a call from someone who told her "There is a bomb at the high school. It will go off tomorrow (today)."

Wellsville police and firemen joined the school custodial staff in a careful search of the school, including, Myers said, examination of every locker. Authorities estimate they spent three hours in the high school trying to locate the alleged bomb. Classes were ordered to be held as usual this morning after no evidence was found of anything unusual.

In all cases the voice was described as being male and "not very old." Police suspect the caller may have been a young boy.

Each time the calls were received authorities were notified and investigations began.

Slack and Myers both pointed out that in such situations "we can't ignore the calls."

rs. Myers indicated the voice was "clear, but seemed to be disguised." The superintendent suggested a handkerchief may have been used.

ident's program deserves "the support of all citizens."

The President, in his State of the Union message to Congress Tuesday night, proposed a "safe streets and crime control act" which would provide federal assistance in three categories:

1. 90 percent of the cost of developing state and local anti-crime plans.

2. 60 percent of the cost of training police tactical units and introducing up-to-date equipment and techniques.

3. 50 percent of the cost of crime laboratries and police academies.

Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York described the President's proposal as "timely."

He added: "New York City is already developing fast-moving tactical units, an instant communications system and a modern police academy. We are very hopeful that the President's message presages significantly broader federal support for our vital law enforcement programs."

sion against South Vietnam. Were this bombing to stop, the Viet Cong would be more aggressive and this would result in killing and wounding many more American troops.

Some civilians are always killed in war. Regretably some civilians are killed accidentally in North Vietnam. That is tragic. But I believe special mention should be made of civilians who are killed in South Vietnam, not by accident but by deliberate Viet Cong policy. This goes on week after week.

Q. Is there a "credibility gap" concerning administration statements on Vietnam and if so, who is to blame?

A. I think the statements of the United States government are believed by our adversaries. This is very important. The believability of American statements is a great force for peace and security of the American people.

Q. There have been periodic reports that you plan to resign soon. What are your personal plans?

A. These are inaccurate. I serve at the pleasure of the President as does every presidential appointee.

Q. What have been the results in terms of world peace of our activity in Vietnam?

A. Outside of Vietnam, that whole great area of islands and peninsulas known as East Asia is denied to the expansionism of Peking. To be sure, the current situation is dangerous because the world is dangerous, but if we had been pushed out of Vietnam or if we had abandoned Vietnam, the tide would have turned towards Peking and we would be facing a catastrophe of global dimensions.

Congress

Social Security disability benefits.

Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, senior Republican member of the Ways and Means committee, said such an increase would necessarily mean increasing the pay roll tax on employes and employers that finances Social Security.

"The pay roll tax already increased automatically this year, and another increase, plus possibly an income tax increase, adds up to quite a burden on the people paying for these benefits," Byrnes said.

Johnson did not mention financing of his proposal. Speculation was that it would require imposing a pay roll tax on the first $7,800 earned income, instead of the present $6,600.

In connection with the Social Security changes, the Ways and Means Committee also will consider limitations on state "medicaid" programs. These medical help activities, for which federal help was authorized several years ago, have in some cases been projected at levels well above what Congress contemplated.

An April start on hearings on the tax proposal means that Congress, if it does approve it, will have to keep to a right schedule to meet the administration request for a July 1 effective date.

On the other hand, the extra time would keep alive the chance that some now unforeseen development might ease the budgetary strain. It also would enable members to study Johnson's precise spending plans, with the possibility of reductions.

following adoption of rules slated for Monday night, said Speaker Charles F. Kurfess R-4 Wood.

Sens. Oakley C. Collins R-18 Lawrence and Oliver Ocasek D-27, Northfield, Summit, sponsored a high school driver training proposal which would be financed by boosting three - year driver license fees from $1 to $3.25 and learners' permits from 50 cents to $3.

They said the State School Board would be authorized to allocate at least $30 for training of each student driver from estimated revenue of $16 million over the first three-year period.

Two freshmen senators proposed $100-$500 a year state scholarships for "deserving," full-time college students starting next September.

Sens. Ralph S. Regular R-29 Navarra, Stark, and John H. Weeks R-25 Cleveland, Cuyahoga, said the scholarships would be available next year for freshmen and for those through their senior year by 1970.

Sen. Charles J. Carney D-33 Youngstown, Mahoning, introduced his total to seven since introductions began Monday night. He leads all lawmakers in the bill department so far.

The Youngstown Democrat's latest measures would relieve relatives of mental patients of financial responsibility—present law requires them to pay if they can—and set up a statewide minimum wage of $1.25 an hour.

Both chambers are expected to hold their first four-day work week beginning Monday after two weeks of three-day sessions.

civilians in the 60-square mile area are being moved out and resettled.

Thrown into the operations were major elements of two U.S. infantry divisions, two more brigades, an armored regiment, massed artillery battalions and several South Vietnamese infantry battalions — a total force estimated at more than 30,000 men.

U.S. casualties so far are reported light.

Elsewhere, the Viet Cong mounted a mortar and recoilless-rifle attack early today on the Binh Thuy airfield six miles northwest of Can Tho in the Mekong Delta.

The Communists rained approximately 50 shells on the field, U.S. headquarters said. A spokesman reported light damage to aircraft and the airfield, but said there were no casualties.

Also in the delta, U.S. Marines continued their so far unproductive sweep of the Thanh Phu Peninsula which began last Friday with a big amphibious landing and helicopter assault. The Marines reported finding and destroying more enemy bunkers in the mangrove swamps 55 miles south of Saigon but contact with the Viet Cong was no more than sniper fire. The Marines so far report eight enemy killed and 13 prisoners captured.

U.S. Air Force B52 bombers struck today at a Communist troop concentration and base camp area 17 miles west of the northern coastal city of Hue. This was the fourth B52 raid since January 1 on the area where U.S. Marines reported spotting 1,000 enemy troops on the move during the New Year's truce.

In the weather-curtailed air war over North Vietnam, U.S. pilots flew only 40 strike and reconnaissance missions Wednesday. Among the forays, Navy Phantom jets from the carrier Enterprise attacked two motorized cargo barges 37 miles northeast of Haiphong. Pilots reported sinking one barge and setting the other ablaze with rockets.

Navy fliers also reported damaging 10 other barges along North Vietnam's coastline and inland waterways. Air Force pilots struck at an oil storage depot six miles north of the Mu Gia Pass and reported three secondary explosions.

In air action over South Vietnam Wednesday, U.S. pilots flew 387 strike sorties and South Vietnamese pilots flew 79.

Wednesday night when Mrs. Lowell B. Myers, wife of the superintendent of Wellsville city schools, received a call from someone who told her "There is a bomb at the high school. It will go off tomorrow (today)."

Wellsville police and firemen joined the school custodial staff in a careful search of the school, including, Myers said, examination of every locker. Authorities estimate they spent three hours in the high school trying to locate the alleged bomb. Classes were ordered to be held as usual this morning after no evidence was found of anything unusual.

In all cases the voice was described as being male and "not very old." Police suspect the caller may have been a young boy.

Each time the calls were received authorities were notified and investigations began.

Slack and Myers both pointed out that in such situations "we can't ignore the calls."

rs. Myers indicated the voice was "clear, but seemed to be disguised." The superintendent suggested a handkerchief may have been used.

ident's program deserves "the support of all citizens."

The President, in his State of the Union message to Congress Tuesday night, proposed a "safe streets and crime control act" which would provide federal assistance in three categories:

1. 90 percent of the cost of developing state and local anti-crime plans.

2. 60 percent of the cost of training police tactical units and introducing up-to-date equipment and techniques.

3. 50 percent of the cost of crime laboratries and police academies.

Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York described the President's proposal as "timely."

He added: "New York City is already developing fast-moving tactical units, an instant communications system and a modern police academy. We are very hopeful that the President's message presages significantly broader federal support for our vital law enforcement programs."

sion against South Vietnam. Were this bombing to stop, the Viet Cong would be more aggressive and this would result in killing and wounding many more American troops.

Some civilians are always killed in war. Regretably some civilians are killed accidentally in North Vietnam. That is tragic. But I believe special mention should be made of civilians who are killed in South Vietnam, not by accident but by deliberate Viet Cong policy. This goes on week after week.

Q. Is there a "credibility gap" concerning administration statements on Vietnam and if so, who is to blame?

A. I think the statements of the United States government are believed by our adversaries. This is very important. The believability of American statements is a great force for peace and security of the American people.

Q. There have been periodic reports that you plan to resign soon. What are your personal plans?

A. These are inaccurate. I serve at the pleasure of the President as does every presidential appointee.

Q. What have been the results in terms of world peace of our activity in Vietnam?

A. Outside of Vietnam, that whole great area of islands and peninsulas known as East Asia is denied to the expansionism of Peking. To be sure, the current situation is dangerous because the world is dangerous, but if we had been pushed out of Vietnam or if we had abandoned Vietnam, the tide would have turned towards Peking and we would be facing a catastrophe of global dimensions.

Social Security disability benefits.

Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, senior Republican member of the Ways and Means committee, said such an increase would necessarily mean increasing the pay roll tax on employes and employers that finances Social Security.

"The pay roll tax already increased automatically this year, and another increase, plus possibly an income tax increase, adds up to quite a burden on the people paying for these benefits," Byrnes said.

Johnson did not mention financing of his proposal. Speculation was that it would require imposing a pay roll tax on the first $7,800 earned income, instead of the present $6,600.

In connection with the Social Security changes, the Ways and Means Committee also will consider limitations on state "medicaid" programs. These medical help activities, for which federal help was authorized several years ago, have in some cases been projected at levels well above what Congress contemplated.

An April start on hearings on the tax proposal means that Congress, if it does approve it, will have to keep to a right schedule to meet the administration request for a July 1 effective date.

On the other hand, the extra time would keep alive the chance that some now unforeseen development might ease the budgetary strain. It also would enable members to study Johnson's precise spending plans, with the possibility of reductions.

Marine Awaiting Next Assignment

Lance Cpl. Richard W. Cline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore M. Cline of 408 Chester St., New Cumberland, and a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mountjoy of Dunn St., Chester, is spending a 25-day leave with his parents prior to embarking for overseas duty.

He will leave by plane Saturday for California.

A Time Of Testing

State of the Union messages of U.S. presidents set off a standard reaction.

Americans launch into heated discussion of the state of their presidents, largely disregarding what the presidents said about the State of the Union.

This will be true of President Johnson's latest message Tuesday night. The state of President Johnson will be analyzed and re-analyzed until the subject has been worn threadbare. The state of the union will not be the issue.

To understand what this signifies in the evolution of the Republic, it is necessary to go back to messages of presidents in the 18th and 19th centuries and the earlier years of this century.

Their messages were long executive reports, usually read to Congress by a clerk—voluminous recitals of facts filed and forgotten. Presidents had no direct access to popular attention.

THE CHANGE occurred after the Hoover administration, when Franklin Roosevelt used State of the Union messages and "fireside chats" to explain his concepts of political leadership to the American people.

Radio made the difference.

Television hastened still more the transition of these constitutionally required but politically inspired reports into appeals for popular support of party program.

President Johnson is seeking support for a dazzling multiplicity of political programs, both new and old.

His 1967 message sounds like a re-run of the 1964 Democratic platform and a prevue of the platform forthcoming in 1968.

He correctly speaks of the Republic as going through a time of testing and transition. He wisely speaks of patience and firm resolve, of national agony and sacrifice.

He has conveyed in his words and in his manner his awareness of the personal responsibility he bears for articulating what he believes should be the goals of the American people.

He concedes they are debatable. He hopes the debating will be restrained and reasonable. He still seeks consensus — "creative debate that offers choices." But he seeks it as a partisan politician.

THE DEBATE now begins again in a new Congress—the 90th. Details of executive recommendations will be threshed out day by day in legislative and popular discussion—everything from a proposed six per cent income tax surcharge to cover the staggering cost of the Great Society at home and undeclared war in Vietnam to proposals for stemming crime in city streets. The State of the Union, President Johnson says, was never better.

But the State of the President, on the other hand, is deep anxiety over a multiplicity of programs for improving conditions both at home and in every corner of the earth.

This, we believe, is now the underlying national issue—whether the United States has been prodded by its fix-it politicians into overextending itself, with the attendant danger of disenchantment at home and abroad.

It is truly, truly a time of testing.

Touch Of Home

The many groups locally and in adjacent communities who have been endeavoring to add a ray of cheer to the life of servicemen in Vietnam can take encouragement from a heartwarming report from the fighting zone.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Mackall of the Georgetown area have received word from their son, Spec. 4 John Mackall Jr., of the enjoyment derived from a small artificial Christmas tree which they sent.

Not only John Jr. but some 500 of his buddies got a real kick out of the tree.

So be it Christmas trees, books, pipes or what have you, rest assured the boys appreciate your thoughtfulness to the fullest. There's nothing like a "touch of home" to brighten the lives of those serving in the armed forces overseas.

We All Love Auto Mechanics

One of the numerous bills being dumped into the Ohio Legislature's hopper calls for compulsory inspection of motor vehicles, except those operated under permits from the Public Utilities Commission, or the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Also exempted would be large over-the-road trucks and semi-trailers.

This would leave the rest of us.

Periodically, we would have to chug away to a state-approved garage and plunk down $2 for an "inspection," which might or might not be meaningful. But the $2 would mean something, including the 20 cents the state would nick off the top.

We love auto mechanics. We love garage proprietors. But most of us have a certain fondness for our motor vehicles, too, and pay the going price for keeping them in repair. We do not need another super-imposed layer of government harassment on our private lives.

The State Highway Patrol has authority to flag down any motor vehicle that seems to be in a state of decrepitude and order it off the road unless it is repaired.

A proposal for compulsory inspection of motor vehicles at $2 a clip is just one more example of the thing Ohioans must fear—more layers of official harassment on law-abiding auto owners, for the purpose of cracking down on a fraction of auto drivers who are chronic scofflaws.

It's another case of thoughtless legislators proposing to burn down a barn to get a horse out.

Only A Taste

Icy conditions were blamed for several traffic accidents in the district this week.

The warning is clear — greater caution than ever will be necessary in the months ahead in the interest of safety.

We've had only a taste of hazardous weather to date, having escaped much of the real winter weather which has gripped many other areas. But our mere "taste" has brought its share of mishaps, fortunately most only of a minor nature at this writing.

Both the weather and the toll can grow worse, however. There's not too much man can do about the former, but there is something he can do about driving in bad weather.

He can exert the greatest possible care when behind the wheel and make sure that everything mechanically is done to make his vehicle safe.

Who Puts On The Lid?

Every fresh batch of news right now contains at least one demand by public employes for additional pay.

It is painfully obvious that public employes have taken to heart what was learned long ago by private employes. They, too, are bringing economic pressure to bear to get what they want.

But who puts on the lid and holds it down on public spending?

The very same people who have learned how to bring pressure to bear to get what they want? They insist on keeping taxes low while everything else goes higher.

Can it be taken for granted that public employes and quasi-public employes always implore their legislators and representatives in public agencies to raise taxes and rates in order to produce more wherewithal to pay higher wages for shorter hours?

Of course it can't be taken for granted. It is not true.

These people are guilty of the same inconsistency as wage earners in private enterprise who untiringly seek higher wages yet untiringly complain about higher prices.

They are people who rant against inflation, blaming remote officials in Washington for milking the dollar of its value, yet expect to get more and more dollars of less and less value for the same tasks.

That is the essence of inflation.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

Apropos of a December vacation in Italy:

Milan's winter smog is so bad airlines warn clients not to be surprised if planes scheduled to land there are rerouted to other airports.

All Italian cities are strangling in traffic congestion, but without the small cars in universal favor there would be no traffic movement at all.

One of the hardest things to get used to is the size of tableware — huge forks, spoons and knives.

Italian trains are fast, neat, well-heated and filled to capacity. Train attendants are courteous and helpful. Whatever Mussolini did about trains, he did surpassingly well.

The famous glass works at Morano, which all visitors to Venice go to see, is like a scene in a movie — but after 30 minutes you know it's real. The shouting apprentices seemingly on hand for dramatic effect only are there for 13-year apprenticeships.

The difference between holidays and strikes in Italy is that everything stops on holidays and during strikes only some things stop.

Venice is a municipal museum built on islands. Nothing may be altered without permission. All the people who work there are employed in tourist trade.

Our most enjoyable meal was in Bologna at the Don Chisciotte e Sancio Panza Restaurant. Our most scenic meal was in the restaurant at Hotel Sirene in Tivoli.

Bologna has 28 miles of arcades. It is possible to shop there indefinitely without being exposed to the weather.

A common sight is the juxtaposition of modern tractors and oxen in vineyards. It seems likely ox teams are easier to manage than tractors.

Our hotel in Rome, the De Ville on Via Sistina, was a few doors from the top of the Spanish Steps. At the bottom was Babington's English tea room, handy for a change of culinary pace.

I did not know the Colosseum was built by Jewish prisoners of war in eight years, nor that it and the Forum fell into ruins when the population of Rome dropped from three million to only 25,000 during the city's fall and were lost to sight before being excavated years later.

Mussolini now is honored as a builder, which seems fair. His famed predecessors in political power on the Italian peninsula weren't so hot as politicians, either, but are remembered for what they built.

Visitors from the United States are impressed by Italian policemen, who look as if they were dressed for a dress parade. Uniforms are seen everywhere, even on road repair crews and street sweepers.

Two bafflements are present in Italian bathrooms — a gadget that looks like a French telephone, for showering, and a facility known as a Bidet.

Stores close from noon to 4 p.m., then reopen until 9, which makes evening the prime shopping time.

Pisa and Bolgna struck us as fine places to live, Rome and Naples as fine places to visit.

We liked six-foot bath towels, door handles that aren't round, lavish use of marble and Italian bread. Wistfully, in closing, why can't all bread taste that good? Why not, huh?

'By The Way, Mac, Where's Your Mount?'

GOP Gaining Labor Backing

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON — Many a union chief would rather switch than fight for recognition and position in the old line Democratic-labor alliance. All across the land the un-headliners inside labor are swinging to the Grand Old Party, and the Republican state leaders are making them welcome while pitching some political woo themselves as the New Year hurtles in.

Victor Riesel

For lots of labor men who, though powerful, never were able to get into the mainstream, this will be the year o the Elephant—be the political pachyderm conservative or liberal.

Typical of this unreported phenomenon is a recent conversation between Michigan Republican House Minority Leader Gerald Ford and the Bunyanesque seafearer Paul Hall, who runs one of the most influential and sophisticated political machines in the land.

Mr. Ford had heard of Mr. Hall's upcoming Martime Trades Dept. (AFL-CIO) legislative conference scheduled, then, for Dec. 20. The gentleman from Michigan suggested he would not be adverse to droping in on the Hotel Statler-Hilton and addressing the 250 delegates from the nation's waterfronts.

SEAFARER HALL replied it was an excellent idea and then the conversation drifted to Mr. Ford's plans to get on to the airwaves with a reply to President Johnson's State of the Union speech. Rep. Ford did come, did speak and did share the platform for a good part of the day with such unlikely companions as the labor movement's No. 1 lobbyist, Andy Biemiller, and the "dese and doe orator," longshoreman Ted Gleason.

It's unlikely that Mr. Ford will be without Mr. Hall's powerful support in future elections, especially since the man from Michigan pledged that the House Republicans would back maritime labor's demands in the 90th Congress.

At about the same time, some labor men and the Republicans of another pivotal state, Pennsylvania, were standing shoulder to shoulder, as the stanza runs in the labor songs.

Conservative Raymond Shafer (then governorelect) let it be known that his new state secretary of labor and industry would be a militant union leader, known to good friends as "Hello Cousin" William Hart. He has been head of the United Steelworkers District 19 and cleared his appointment with the union's national leader I. W. "Abe" Abel.

FRIEND HART had campaigned for Gov. Shafer against the legions of labor leaders who had backed the pro-union Milton Shapp. Now there is little doubt that the Hart charm, energy and ebullience will increase his tribe.

Not inconsequential, also, was the appointment of the USWA's national secretary-treasurer, the intellectual Walter Burke, to the State Board of Education by the outgoing Gov. Scranton.

True, Mr. Burke replaces another unionist. But it's significant that the National Steel Union official, a militant from Wisconsin, takes the place of a man who was from the more conservative construction trades.

Now if we hop along to California and look at Ronald Reagan, we find that despite the good guys, bad guys, white hat, black gags, the new governor is moving to close his credibility gap with labor. One of his intimates tells me that:

"You probably are aware of some of the positions he took during the campaign on labor issues: Oppositon to right-to-work, opposition to repeal of section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act and a proposal calling for a secret ballot on all union policy matters including strike votes."

I'M ALSO TOLD, "he currently is studying proposed legislation regarding union matters but specific details have yet to be formulated."

Further inquiry among Mr. Reagan's advisers discloses that these new proposals won't skyrocket labor's blood prsssure as much as had been expected. He will be guided, in part, by a most judicious labor chap with whom he collaborated for many years—Jack Dales, Screen Actors Guild (SAG, AFL-CIO) executive secretary.

It is, of course, known that the governor had been president of SAG. But not usually observed is the fact that he was active for a long time—from 1947 almost to the end of 1952. And later, from November 1959 to June of 1960. He resigned only because he had obtained a producer's interest in the GE TV show.

The governor has put his old colleague Mr. Dales on a top flight task force to select, screen and recommend personnel for the highest state positions.

WHEN ALL THIS, across the political spectrum and the nation, is linked with the powerful labor support of Sen. Case in New Jersey and Gov. Rockefeller in New York, its obvious that a cold front is forming against the Democrats on state levels.

It is being encouraged by pragmatist Ray Bliss, GOP national chairman, who believes that all the GOP need do in '68 to win more heavily is to cut just a little more into the big city vote—much of which is the labor movement.

Labor's national leaders are aware of the development and are preparing to fight the switch.

Odd Facts

Stressing the democratic practices of the religion, Islam has no professional priesthood. Any qualified person may lead the prayers, usually being one with a resonant voice.

Our word camera is really the Latin word for chamber. The camera is so-called because of the chamber that separates the lens from the film or plate.

Cultured pearls can be distinguished from genuine gems by X-ray machine or by an instrument called the endoscope, which shows the center of a drilled pearl.

Action Needed

By David Lawrence

Why The Republic Falters

"Public confidence" in Congress has sunk to 54 per cent, which is 17 points below its high of 71 a year ago, according to the Louis Harris survey. The rating hasn't gone as low as it was in December 1963, when the positive percentage was 35, the negative 65.

The real problem is how national sentiment can be measured when replies in different congressional districts are grouped together, even though the people have varying interests.

The most that can be inferred is that voters are dissatisfied with current policies of Congress, though the reasons may not be parallel in most districts.

There is a serious discontent in the country.

People complain because living costs haven't been controlled. Others say Congress has "gone too far" on civil rights or it is "a rubber stamp of LBJ." The view is expressed that there is "too much bickering and delay."

As for those who favor the over-all record of Congress, they, too, make criticisms. They concede that Congress has tried hard and enacted some constructive programs, but they are not too happy about it all.

THE ELECTION results last November reflected cumulatively the currents of dissent.

Biggest defect is to be found in the functioning of Congress itself. What gets scant attention is lack of a responsible system of party organization or discipline.

Members win elections by being nominees on a party ticket, but when they line up on a roll call they vote against their party whenever it suits them.

A coalition is often formed between dissenting members of each party, depending on the issues that arise.

Party leaders are frequently helpless to put through any organized program of legislative measures. Sometimes, too, the leaders themselves are at variance with a president who is of their own party. He is wholly dependent on the whims of individual members of Congress.

Nowhere in the world is there such an undisciplined body of legislators. This is in striking contrast to the parliamentary system which prevails in most democracies.

Source of the trouble in Congress is the fact the president can only recommend legislation. While he can exercise a veto, it is possible for Congress to override him by a two-thirds vote of both houses.

If a president cannot get even a simple majority from his own party, this would obviously be a manifestation of a "lack of confidence." Abroad, such a contingency calls for a general election to determine the will of the people and whether they want a different party to be given majority control.

There is discussion currently about doing away with the custom of casting the entire electoral vote of a state for candidates who get majority vote within the state.

New proposals call for a direct election of the president and vice president by the people so a majority of the total vote of the entire country would, in effect, elect a president.

When such fundamental changes are proposed, it would seem logical to define also the responsibilities of both Congress and the president, in tween the two branches of government could be order that a workable system of cooperation be established.

Something must be done to replace the irresponsible setup in the American governmental system today.

A Time Of Testing

State of the Union messages of U.S. presidents set off a standard reaction.

Americans launch into heated discussion of the state of their presidents, largely disregarding what the presidents said about the State of the Union.

This will be true of President Johnson's latest message Tuesday night. The state of President Johnson will be analyzed and re-analyzed until the subject has been worn threadbare. The state of the union will not be the issue.

To understand what this signifies in the evolution of the Republic, it is necessary to go back to messages of presidents in the 18th and 19th centuries and the earlier years of this century.

Their messages were long executive reports, usually read to Congress by a clerk—voluminous recitals of facts filed and forgotten. Presidents had no direct access to popular attention.

THE CHANGE occurred after the Hoover administration, when Franklin Roosevelt used State of the Union messages and "fireside chats" to explain his concepts of political leadership to the American people.

Radio made the difference.

Television hastened still more the transition of these constitutionally required but politically inspired reports into appeals for popular support of party program.

President Johnson is seeking support for a dazzling multiplicity of political programs, both new and old.

His 1967 message sounds like a re-run of the 1964 Democratic platform and a prevue of the platform forthcoming in 1968.

He correctly speaks of the Republic as going through a time of testing and transition. He wisely speaks of patience and firm resolve, of national agony and sacrifice.

He has conveyed in his words and in his manner his awareness of the personal responsibility he bears for articulating what he believes should be the goals of the American people.

He concedes they are debatable. He hopes the debating will be restrained and reasonable. He still seeks consensus — "creative debate that offers choices." But he seeks it as a partisan politician.

THE DEBATE now begins again in a new Congress—the 90th. Details of executive recommendations will be threshed out day by day in legislative and popular discussion—everything from a proposed six per cent income tax surcharge to cover the staggering cost of the Great Society at home and undeclared war in Vietnam to proposals for stemming crime in city streets. The State of the Union, President Johnson says, was never better.

But the State of the President, on the other hand, is deep anxiety over a multiplicity of programs for improving conditions both at home and in every corner of the earth.

This, we believe, is now the underlying national issue—whether the United States has been prodded by its fix-it politicians into overextending itself, with the attendant danger of disenchantment at home and abroad.

It is truly, truly a time of testing.

Touch Of Home

The many groups locally and in adjacent communities who have been endeavoring to add a ray of cheer to the life of servicemen in Vietnam can take encouragement from a heartwarming report from the fighting zone.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Mackall of the Georgetown area have received word from their son, Spec. 4 John Mackall Jr., of the enjoyment derived from a small artificial Christmas tree which they sent.

Not only John Jr. but some 500 of his buddies got a real kick out of the tree.

So be it Christmas trees, books, pipes or what have you, rest assured the boys appreciate your thoughtfulness to the fullest. There's nothing like a "touch of home" to brighten the lives of those serving in the armed forces overseas.

We All Love Auto Mechanics

One of the numerous bills being dumped into the Ohio Legislature's hopper calls for compulsory inspection of motor vehicles, except those operated under permits from the Public Utilities Commission, or the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Also exempted would be large over-the-road trucks and semi-trailers.

This would leave the rest of us.

Periodically, we would have to chug away to a state-approved garage and plunk down $2 for an "inspection," which might or might not be meaningful. But the $2 would mean something, including the 20 cents the state would nick off the top.

We love auto mechanics. We love garage proprietors. But most of us have a certain fondness for our motor vehicles, too, and pay the going price for keeping them in repair. We do not need another super-imposed layer of government harassment on our private lives.

The State Highway Patrol has authority to flag down any motor vehicle that seems to be in a state of decrepitude and order it off the road unless it is repaired.

A proposal for compulsory inspection of motor vehicles at $2 a clip is just one more example of the thing Ohioans must fear—more layers of official harassment on law-abiding auto owners, for the purpose of cracking down on a fraction of auto drivers who are chronic scofflaws.

It's another case of thoughtless legislators proposing to burn down a barn to get a horse out.

Only A Taste

Icy conditions were blamed for several traffic accidents in the district this week.

The warning is clear — greater caution than ever will be necessary in the months ahead in the interest of safety.

We've had only a taste of hazardous weather to date, having escaped much of the real winter weather which has gripped many other areas. But our mere "taste" has brought its share of mishaps, fortunately most only of a minor nature at this writing.

Both the weather and the toll can grow worse, however. There's not too much man can do about the former, but there is something he can do about driving in bad weather.

He can exert the greatest possible care when behind the wheel and make sure that everything mechanically is done to make his vehicle safe.

Who Puts On The Lid?

Every fresh batch of news right now contains at least one demand by public employes for additional pay.

It is painfully obvious that public employes have taken to heart what was learned long ago by private employes. They, too, are bringing economic pressure to bear to get what they want.

But who puts on the lid and holds it down on public spending?

The very same people who have learned how to bring pressure to bear to get what they want? They insist on keeping taxes low while everything else goes higher.

Can it be taken for granted that public employes and quasi-public employes always implore their legislators and representatives in public agencies to raise taxes and rates in order to produce more wherewithal to pay higher wages for shorter hours?

Of course it can't be taken for granted. It is not true.

These people are guilty of the same inconsistency as wage earners in private enterprise who untiringly seek higher wages yet untiringly complain about higher prices.

They are people who rant against inflation, blaming remote officials in Washington for milking the dollar of its value, yet expect to get more and more dollars of less and less value for the same tasks.

That is the essence of inflation.

Purely Personal

Apropos of a December vacation in Italy:

Milan's winter smog is so bad airlines warn clients not to be surprised if planes scheduled to land there are rerouted to other airports.

All Italian cities are strangling in traffic congestion, but without the small cars in universal favor there would be no traffic movement at all.

One of the hardest things to get used to is the size of tableware — huge forks, spoons and knives.

Italian trains are fast, neat, well-heated and filled to capacity. Train attendants are courteous and helpful. Whatever Mussolini did about trains, he did surpassingly well.

The famous glass works at Morano, which all visitors to Venice go to see, is like a scene in a movie — but after 30 minutes you know it's real. The shouting apprentices seemingly on hand for dramatic effect only are there for 13-year apprenticeships.

The difference between holidays and strikes in Italy is that everything stops on holidays and during strikes only some things stop.

Venice is a municipal museum built on islands. Nothing may be altered without permission. All the people who work there are employed in tourist trade.

Our most enjoyable meal was in Bologna at the Don Chisciotte e Sancio Panza Restaurant. Our most scenic meal was in the restaurant at Hotel Sirene in Tivoli.

Bologna has 28 miles of arcades. It is possible to shop there indefinitely without being exposed to the weather.

A common sight is the juxtaposition of modern tractors and oxen in vineyards. It seems likely ox teams are easier to manage than tractors.

Our hotel in Rome, the De Ville on Via Sistina, was a few doors from the top of the Spanish Steps. At the bottom was Babington's English tea room, handy for a change of culinary pace.

I did not know the Colosseum was built by Jewish prisoners of war in eight years, nor that it and the Forum fell into ruins when the population of Rome dropped from three million to only 25,000 during the city's fall and were lost to sight before being excavated years later.

Mussolini now is honored as a builder, which seems fair. His famed predecessors in political power on the Italian peninsula weren't so hot as politicians, either, but are remembered for what they built.

Visitors from the United States are impressed by Italian policemen, who look as if they were dressed for a dress parade. Uniforms are seen everywhere, even on road repair crews and street sweepers.

Two bafflements are present in Italian bathrooms — a gadget that looks like a French telephone, for showering, and a facility known as a Bidet.

Stores close from noon to 4 p.m., then reopen until 9, which makes evening the prime shopping time.

Pisa and Bolgna struck us as fine places to live, Rome and Naples as fine places to visit.

We liked six-foot bath towels, door handles that aren't round, lavish use of marble and Italian bread. Wistfully, in closing, why can't all bread taste that good? Why not, huh?

GOP Gaining Labor Backing

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON — Many a union chief would rather switch than fight for recognition and position in the old line Democratic-labor alliance. All across the land the un-headliners inside labor are swinging to the Grand Old Party, and the Republican state leaders are making them welcome while pitching some political woo themselves as the New Year hurtles in.

Victor Riesel

For lots of labor men who, though powerful, never were able to get into the mainstream, this will be the year o the Elephant—be the political pachyderm conservative or liberal.

Typical of this unreported phenomenon is a recent conversation between Michigan Republican House Minority Leader Gerald Ford and the Bunyanesque seafearer Paul Hall, who runs one of the most influential and sophisticated political machines in the land.

Mr. Ford had heard of Mr. Hall's upcoming Martime Trades Dept. (AFL-CIO) legislative conference scheduled, then, for Dec. 20. The gentleman from Michigan suggested he would not be adverse to droping in on the Hotel Statler-Hilton and addressing the 250 delegates from the nation's waterfronts.

SEAFARER HALL replied it was an excellent idea and then the conversation drifted to Mr. Ford's plans to get on to the airwaves with a reply to President Johnson's State of the Union speech. Rep. Ford did come, did speak and did share the platform for a good part of the day with such unlikely companions as the labor movement's No. 1 lobbyist, Andy Biemiller, and the "dese and doe orator," longshoreman Ted Gleason.

It's unlikely that Mr. Ford will be without Mr. Hall's powerful support in future elections, especially since the man from Michigan pledged that the House Republicans would back maritime labor's demands in the 90th Congress.

At about the same time, some labor men and the Republicans of another pivotal state, Pennsylvania, were standing shoulder to shoulder, as the stanza runs in the labor songs.

Conservative Raymond Shafer (then governorelect) let it be known that his new state secretary of labor and industry would be a militant union leader, known to good friends as "Hello Cousin" William Hart. He has been head of the United Steelworkers District 19 and cleared his appointment with the union's national leader I. W. "Abe" Abel.

FRIEND HART had campaigned for Gov. Shafer against the legions of labor leaders who had backed the pro-union Milton Shapp. Now there is little doubt that the Hart charm, energy and ebullience will increase his tribe.

Not inconsequential, also, was the appointment of the USWA's national secretary-treasurer, the intellectual Walter Burke, to the State Board of Education by the outgoing Gov. Scranton.

True, Mr. Burke replaces another unionist. But it's significant that the National Steel Union official, a militant from Wisconsin, takes the place of a man who was from the more conservative construction trades.

Now if we hop along to California and look at Ronald Reagan, we find that despite the good guys, bad guys, white hat, black gags, the new governor is moving to close his credibility gap with labor. One of his intimates tells me that:

"You probably are aware of some of the positions he took during the campaign on labor issues: Oppositon to right-to-work, opposition to repeal of section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act and a proposal calling for a secret ballot on all union policy matters including strike votes."

I'M ALSO TOLD, "he currently is studying proposed legislation regarding union matters but specific details have yet to be formulated."

Further inquiry among Mr. Reagan's advisers discloses that these new proposals won't skyrocket labor's blood prsssure as much as had been expected. He will be guided, in part, by a most judicious labor chap with whom he collaborated for many years—Jack Dales, Screen Actors Guild (SAG, AFL-CIO) executive secretary.

It is, of course, known that the governor had been president of SAG. But not usually observed is the fact that he was active for a long time—from 1947 almost to the end of 1952. And later, from November 1959 to June of 1960. He resigned only because he had obtained a producer's interest in the GE TV show.

The governor has put his old colleague Mr. Dales on a top flight task force to select, screen and recommend personnel for the highest state positions.

WHEN ALL THIS, across the political spectrum and the nation, is linked with the powerful labor support of Sen. Case in New Jersey and Gov. Rockefeller in New York, its obvious that a cold front is forming against the Democrats on state levels.

It is being encouraged by pragmatist Ray Bliss, GOP national chairman, who believes that all the GOP need do in '68 to win more heavily is to cut just a little more into the big city vote—much of which is the labor movement.

Labor's national leaders are aware of the development and are preparing to fight the switch.

Why The Republic Falters

"Public confidence" in Congress has sunk to 54 per cent, which is 17 points below its high of 71 a year ago, according to the Louis Harris survey. The rating hasn't gone as low as it was in December 1963, when the positive percentage was 35, the negative 65.

The real problem is how national sentiment can be measured when replies in different congressional districts are grouped together, even though the people have varying interests.

The most that can be inferred is that voters are dissatisfied with current policies of Congress, though the reasons may not be parallel in most districts.

There is a serious discontent in the country.

People complain because living costs haven't been controlled. Others say Congress has "gone too far" on civil rights or it is "a rubber stamp of LBJ." The view is expressed that there is "too much bickering and delay."

As for those who favor the over-all record of Congress, they, too, make criticisms. They concede that Congress has tried hard and enacted some constructive programs, but they are not too happy about it all.

THE ELECTION results last November reflected cumulatively the currents of dissent.

Biggest defect is to be found in the functioning of Congress itself. What gets scant attention is lack of a responsible system of party organization or discipline.

Members win elections by being nominees on a party ticket, but when they line up on a roll call they vote against their party whenever it suits them.

There is discussion currently about doing away with the custom of casting the entire electoral vote of a state for candidates who get majority vote within the state.

New proposals call for a direct election of the president and vice president by the people so a majority of the total vote of the entire country would, in effect, elect a president.

Several Tax Advantages Accorded Those Past 65

By RAY DE CRANE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Senior citizens — anyone who reached his 65th birthday by Dec. 31, 1966 — receive several important advantages on their annual income tax return.

1. — Instead of the normal $600 personal exemption accorded all under-65 taxpayers, senior citizens receive two $600 exemptions. If husband and wife are each 65 or older they receive a total of four exemption credits.

2. — Full deduction for all their medical expenses, including all their drug bills, is allowed. This is the last year for this special privilege. (Beginning on 1967 returns — filed a year from now — those over 65 will be treated like all other taxpayers. Then, only medical expenses exceeding 3 per cent of adjusted gross income will be deductible and drug expenses will be considered only after exceeding 1 per cent of adjusted gross income.)

3. — Profit is tax - free when they sell their home for $20,000 or less, regardless of how much profit was made on the sale. Even when the selling price exceeds $20,000, there is a major tax saving. This is a once-in-a-lifetime election. (Details of this feature were explained in an earlier chapter.)

4. — A joint retirement income credit is allowed which could exempt, in effect, an additional $2,286 in income from tax at a 15 per cent rate if husband and wife are each 65 and they file a joint return. In another option, each one can compute separate credits beginning with $1,524.

And here's a $600 tip for some lucky senior citizens. Your age is determined on the day before your birthday. So if you celebrated your birthday on Jan. 1, 1967, you are considered by Uncle Sam to have been 65 on Dec. 31, 1966. This entitles you to two $600 exemption credits on your 1966 tax return.

Penalty Is Set In Drag Race

LISBON — Richard W. Shawke, 16, of 320 Campground Rd., Wellsville, has been ordered not to ride with anyone but his parents and not to apply for a driver's permit until April 1.

The action was taken by Judge Louis Tobin of Juvenile Court here Tuesday on a charge of participating in a drag race.

The youth was cited by the State Highway Patrol early Saturday on the Freeway near here. Patrolmen said he was the "counter" for the start of the race.

The two drivers and another passenger are scheduled for drag race hearings next Tuesday in Municipal Court at East Liverpool.

Three youths lost the right to drive for 20 days for doing 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. They are Terrence S. McIlduff, 17, Rogers R. D. 1; Vincent A. Austin, 17, Homeworth R. D. 1, and Nicholas P. Wagnitz, 17, Alliance.

Suspended for 10 days were the licenses of John W. Stamets, 17, Columbiana, passing at approach to a hill crest, and Ralph E. Andrews, 17, East Palestine, speeding.

Fined were: John F. Yost, 17, Alliance, speeding, $25; Joyce M. Coleman, 17, John St., East Liverpool MC 22, no operator's license, $25 (10 days in detention suspended); William E. Miller, 17, Lisbon St., East Liverpool M. C. 22, failure to signal turn, $15 (suspended), and James L. Hoffman, 16, of 1575 Ridgeway, Salem, speeding, $10.

Thomas R. Kidder, 16, Lisbon, cited for reckless operation after his car hit a telephone pole in Lisbon, received a warning. He and his 14-year-old sister were injured in the Jan. 1 mishap.

Lani Bird 2 Put In Orbit Successfully

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communications Satellite Corp. said today its newest spacecraft, Lani Bird 2, appears to be in a satisfactory transfer orbit.

This means that the craft's looping course once around the earth every 11 hours may place it in the proper position to be propelled into a synchronous orbit 22,300 miles above the earth at the equator.

At the proper time late Friday or Saturday the small apogee motor aboard the spacecraft will be fired to kick Lani into a velocity matching the rotational speed of the earth.

If this and other maneuvers succeed, Lani Bird will provide a communications link between North America and the Far East.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration launched the drum-shaped, 192-pound satellite, known officially as Intelsat II, from Cape Kennedy, Fla., early Wednesday.

63 Await Tests At Lisbon School

LISBON — Sixty - three seniors and juniors from area high schools will report to David Anderson High School early Saturday for the college entrance examination board's scholastic aptitude test.

The building will open at 8:30 and the test room door will close promptly at 9, according to Cornell P. Monda, Lisbon school psychologist and test supervisor.

George M. Nace Jr., DAHS principal, and Gary Pike, guidance counselor, will be proctors.

Monda said the SAT will be administered in the morning. He said 36 students are scheduled to take achievement tests and writing sample tests at 2 p. m. The doors will open at 1:30.

The first "college boards" examination this school year was given Dec. 3 and drew 50 students. Other test dates this year are March 4 and May 6. Lisbon has been a test center eight years.

Several Tax Advantages Accorded Those Past 65

By RAY DE CRANE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Senior citizens — anyone who reached his 65th birthday by Dec. 31, 1966 — receive several important advantages on their annual income tax return.

1. — Instead of the normal $600 personal exemption accorded all under-65 taxpayers, senior citizens receive two $600 exemptions. If husband and wife are each 65 or older they receive a total of four exemption credits.

2. — Full deduction for all their medical expenses, including all their drug bills, is allowed. This is the last year for this special privilege. (Beginning on 1967 returns — filed a year from now — those over 65 will be treated like all other taxpayers. Then, only medical expenses exceeding 3 per cent of adjusted gross income will be deductible and drug expenses will be considered only after exceeding 1 per cent of adjusted gross income.)

3. — Profit is tax - free when they sell their home for $20,000 or less, regardless of how much profit was made on the sale. Even when the selling price exceeds $20,000, there is a major tax saving. This is a once-in-a-lifetime election. (Details of this feature were explained in an earlier chapter.)

4. — A joint retirement income credit is allowed which could exempt, in effect, an additional $2,286 in income from tax at a 15 per cent rate if husband and wife are each 65 and they file a joint return. In another option, each one can compute separate credits beginning with $1,524.

And here's a $600 tip for some lucky senior citizens. Your age is determined on the day before your birthday. So if you celebrated your birthday on Jan. 1, 1967, you are considered by Uncle Sam to have been 65 on Dec. 31, 1966. This entitles you to two $600 exemption credits on your 1966 tax return.

Penalty Is Set In Drag Race

LISBON — Richard W. Shawke, 16, of 320 Campground Rd., Wellsville, has been ordered not to ride with anyone but his parents and not to apply for a driver's permit until April 1.

The action was taken by Judge Louis Tobin of Juvenile Court here Tuesday on a charge of participating in a drag race.

The youth was cited by the State Highway Patrol early Saturday on the Freeway near here. Patrolmen said he was the "counter" for the start of the race.

The two drivers and another passenger are scheduled for drag race hearings next Tuesday in Municipal Court at East Liverpool.

Three youths lost the right to drive for 20 days for doing 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. They are Terrence S. McIlduff, 17, Rogers R. D. 1; Vincent A. Austin, 17, Homeworth R. D. 1, and Nicholas P. Wagnitz, 17, Alliance.

Suspended for 10 days were the licenses of John W. Stamets, 17, Columbiana, passing at approach to a hill crest, and Ralph E. Andrews, 17, East Palestine, speeding.

Fined were: John F. Yost, 17, Alliance, speeding, $25; Joyce M. Coleman, 17, John St., East Liverpool MC 22, no operator's license, $25 (10 days in detention suspended); William E. Miller, 17, Lisbon St., East Liverpool M. C. 22, failure to signal turn, $15 (suspended), and James L. Hoffman, 16, of 1575 Ridgeway, Salem, speeding, $10.

Thomas R. Kidder, 16, Lisbon, cited for reckless operation after his car hit a telephone pole in Lisbon, received a warning. He and his 14-year-old sister were injured in the Jan. 1 mishap.

Lani Bird 2 Put In Orbit Successfully

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communications Satellite Corp. said today its newest spacecraft, Lani Bird 2, appears to be in a satisfactory transfer orbit.

This means that the craft's looping course once around the earth every 11 hours may place it in the proper position to be propelled into a synchronous orbit 22,300 miles above the earth at the equator.

At the proper time late Friday or Saturday the small apogee motor aboard the spacecraft will be fired to kick Lani into a velocity matching the rotational speed of the earth.

If this and other maneuvers succeed, Lani Bird will provide a communications link between North America and the Far East.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration launched the drum-shaped, 192-pound satellite, known officially as Intelsat II, from Cape Kennedy, Fla., early Wednesday.

ing our students, our team, our band and our adult followers to unnecessary risk and danger.

"Therefore, we propose that the next contract for football between our schools be for the one season, 1967; that the game be played at Salem; and that the gate receipts be split 50-50 after standard game expenses have been deducted.

"We further propose that the 1968 game be scheduled at Salem under the same conditions.

"If it is then evident that the problems of concern listed above have been corrected, Salem would again be glad to enter into a home - and - home contract for '69-'70, with the '69 game at East Liverpool and the '70 game at Salem.

"We would appreciate a reply within the next 10 days so we may each progress with our schedule planning."

ON JUNE 13, 1966, the Lynch statement points out that a meeting was held. Attending were Supt. Victor Wood, Assistant Supt. Darrell Fadley, Athletic Director Fred Cope and Grinnen, all of Salem, and Supt. Paul Blair and Pelini of East Liverpool.

"After their discussion," Lynch continues, "everyone seemed to think that matters were cleared up at that particular time and Mr. Pelini stated that he would send a letter after investigation to Salem in reference to the various charges made on June 8, 1966. On June 16, Mr. Pelini sent the following letter addressed to Grinnen:

"In answer to your letter dated June 8, 1966, and our meeting of June 13, 1966, we wish to submit the following statement regarding the incidents contained in your letter:

"Item 1 — The East Liverpool Athletic Board does not and will not condone any school not receiving an officials list for approval. In discussing the situation with our athletic director, we understand he instructed our student athletic office girl to send an officials list to all of our home opponents for 1965. We regret that Salem did not receive one. We will take definite measures to insure that this does not happen in the future. Future officials lists will be sent by certified mail. We wholeheartedly endorse your suggestion that the officials for all East Liverpool-Salem games be selected by a neutral party with each school sending in an approved list to the neutral party.

"Item 2 — Not knowing details of specific complaints, we can only state that we employ twelve (12) of our regular city policemen, all in uniform, and pay them at the rate of $10 per game for each game at Patterson Field.

"Item 3 — We have gone over this item with our local band director. He states that he spent considerable time at the game with your band director and there were no complaints or incidents that he saw or that were drawn to his attention. In our local situation, both the home and visiting bands are located inside the fence that encircles the playing field. The only persons allowed inside this area are the participating teams, bands, and cheerleaders. In addition, assignment of one policeman is in the area directly behind the visiting band. We also allow the visiting team and band buses to drive to an area where they may load and unload within the stadium area. We would like to have additional information regarding this incident.

"Item 4 — We regret that an incident of this nature would happen at East Liverpool. Unfortunately this was not drawn to our attention until the date of your letter, June 8, but we continually strive to prevent any and all incidents of this nature. We are going to bring this matter to the attention of our police chief and would appreciate any additional information from you relative to the incident.

"Item 5 — In an effort to give the visiting team choice seats we have a section reserved for adults in the new stands just erected previous to the 1965 season. We have, because of the excellent location of this section on the 50-yard line, sold tickets to this section at the gate the night of the game. There is a special section set aside for students in our West stands. The advance sale of tickets at Salem for our game on Nov. 5, 1965, was 122 students and 54 adults, according to our game audit report. This leads us to conclude that possibly some Salem fans may have purchased tickets at the game and, therefore, would be seated with our gate ticket purchasers.

"In summation, the East Liverpool Athletic Board would like very much to continue the long and friendly athletic relationship with Salem. We do not feel that we can accept the stipulations in your letter — paragraphs three (3) and four (4). We are interested in a home-and-home contract under the same contract regulations now in effect.

"We would also like to emphasize our willingness to take our athletic director and band director to Salem for a conference with your staff in order to clarify any misunderstandings that may exist.

"We will appreciate an early reply as to the decision of the Salem High School Advisory Board."

LYNCH SAID that Pelini received a reply from Grinnen on June 28 in which it was stated that the Salem athletic advisory board had agreed that no decision would be made on a home-and-home contract for the 1967 and 1968 football season until after the 1966 season.

The letter from Salem concluded: "If, because of the delay in our making a decision, East Liverpool would prefer to schedule another opponent on the Salem date, they should feel free to do so."

"After this letter from Salem, no further action was taken on the Salem - East Liverpool game," Lynch explained.

"On Dec. 5, 1966, I wrote to Mr. Grinnen explaining that I was new at East Liverpool and would appreciate any information that he could send me regarding the Salem - East Liverpool game."

He said Grinnen replied on Dec. 8, reviewing what had progressed.

"In reviewing the situation from school records," Lynch continued, "I would like to make the following additional points that have not been covered in the correspondence between the two schools.

"1. — Our records reveal that the Salem 1965 football game was the poorest attended. The advanced adult sale of tickets from Salem totaled 54 and the advanced student sale from Salem totaled 122. There is a question in my mind that with such a small visiting crowd and the apparently one - sided score (46-13) that this condition would create so many problems.

"2. — It is revealed that at the 1966 game played at Salem, more than $1,000 in advanced sales was turned in to Mr. Cope at Salem. Mr. Cope commented that he was well pleased to see such a wonderful following East Liverpool had at the game.

"IF ALL the statements stated above are true, a question is raised in my mind that Salem would be willing to subject their students and adult fans to the same police force, students and fans here in East Liverpool on Jan. 28, 1967, to play a basketball game in our Memorial Auditorium. Also, there is some question as to why Salem even bothered sending us a home-and-home football contract in which Salem would come to East Liverpool on Nov. 1, 1968, if the stated charges were so flagrant.

"Although only rumors — and I wish to stress this point—it has been said that the Salem football coach would like to play a weaker schedule, thus not meeting East Liverpool. I would suggest that if this rumor is correct that East Liverpool and Salem should break athletic relationships with good feelings toward each other and not make petty criticisms of East Liverpool students, adult fans and police force.

"Also rumored is that Salem's football coach at the Ohio High School Athletic Association investigation last Nov. 18 in Columbus said that he had no personal observations of the actions which resulted in the charges by him and only knew what had been reported to him."

LYNCH THEN quotes from the Salem News that "Salem isn't the only team to drop East Liverpool in the past few years. For similar reasons Steubenville, Toronto, Wellsville, Beaver Local and Oak Glen refuse to play East Liverpool."

His comment follows: "As near as I can tell from the information available, this statement is not entirely accurate. For example, we have not participated with Toronto in football on a home-and-home basis since 1959, at which time the football contract was severed amicably between both schools. The basketball relationship ended when Toronto would not change their schedule in order that we could schedule "Big 8" basketball opponents later in the year.

"The East Liverpool - Wellsville relationship was ended because we wanted to play an additional home game and the Wellsville game contract was the only contract coming up for renewal at that particular time. The series of home-and-home games was ended in 1952, and East Liverpool has played Wellsville two games since that time.

"Beaver Local was tendered a contract under the same terms that we had played them the previous four years. This contract was returned unsigned. There was no apparent ill feeling between the schools and I respect the right of Beaver Local school officials in the refusal of the contract.

"At this time no decision has been made on the Oak Glen game. A contract has been mailed recently to Oak Glen, but official action has not been taken.

"Steubenville severed relationships with East Liverpool over a concern of game conditions and no new negotiations at this time apparently will be made.

"The above information is not intended to create further difficulties between present and former opponents of East Liverpool High School. However, it is intended to give what I feel is a more accurate picture of the various things that have transpired concerning football relationships."

Man With Foot, Mouth Disease Is Sick Again

LONDON (AP) — Bob Brewis, 34, a farmhand who two months ago became the first human known to catch foot and mouth disease in Britain, is sick again.

A Conservative member of Parliament immediately demanded a government inquiry into why Brewis had been allowed to mix freely with other people.

Brewis was infected in November at his brother's farm in Northumberland, a county in northern England that lost $2.8 million worth of animals to the disease last year.

Brewis was hospitalized for a week and officials said tests unmistakably revealed foot and mouth disease.

Brewis was pronounced cured and allowed to go back to work — in a garage, by his choice. Later he moved to another farm and there he apparently suffered a relapse or contracted the disease a second time.

ON JUNE 13, 1966, the Lynch statement points out that a meeting was held. Attending were Supt. Victor Wood, Assistant Supt. Darrell Fadley, Athletic Director Fred Cope and Grinnen, all of Salem, and Supt. Paul Blair and Pelini of East Liverpool.

"After their discussion," Lynch continues, "everyone seemed to think that matters were cleared up at that particular time and Mr. Pelini stated that he would send a letter after investigation to Salem in reference to the various charges made on June 8, 1966. On June 16, Mr. Pelini sent the following letter addressed to Grinnen:

"In answer to your letter dated June 8, 1966, and our meeting of June 13, 1966, we wish to submit the following statement regarding the incidents contained in your letter:

"Item 1 — The East Liverpool Athletic Board does not and will not condone any school not receiving an officials list for approval. In discussing the situation with our athletic director, we understand he instructed our student athletic office girl to send an officials list to all of our home opponents for 1965. We regret that Salem did not receive one. We will take definite measures to insure that this does not happen in the future. Future officials lists will be sent by certified mail. We wholeheartedly endorse your suggestion that the officials for all East Liverpool-Salem games be selected by a neutral party with each school sending in an approved list to the neutral party.

"Item 2 — Not knowing details of specific complaints, we can only state that we employ twelve (12) of our regular city policemen, all in uniform, and pay them at the rate of $10 per game for each game at Patterson Field.

"Item 3 — We have gone over this item with our local band director. He states that he spent considerable time at the game with your band director and there were no complaints or incidents that he saw or that were drawn to his attention. In our local situation, both the home and visiting bands are located inside the fence that encircles the playing field. The only persons allowed inside this area are the participating teams, bands, and cheerleaders. In addition, assignment of one policeman is in the area directly behind the visiting band. We also allow the visiting team and band buses to drive to an area where they may load and unload within the stadium area. We would like to have additional information regarding this incident.

"Item 4 — We regret that an incident of this nature would happen at East Liverpool. Unfortunately this was not drawn to our attention until the date of your letter, June 8, but we continually strive to prevent any and all incidents of this nature. We are going to bring this matter to the attention of our police chief and would appreciate any additional information from you relative to the incident.

"Item 5 — In an effort to give the visiting team choice seats we have a section reserved for adults in the new stands just erected previous to the 1965 season. We have, because of the excellent location of this section on the 50-yard line, sold tickets to this section at the gate the night of the game. There is a special section set aside for students in our West stands. The advance sale of tickets at Salem for our game on Nov. 5, 1965, was 122 students and 54 adults, according to our game audit report. This leads us to conclude that possibly some Salem fans may have purchased tickets at the game and, therefore, would be seated with our gate ticket purchasers.

"In summation, the East Liverpool Athletic Board would like very much to continue the long and friendly athletic relationship with Salem. We do not feel that we can accept the stipulations in your letter — paragraphs three (3) and four (4). We are interested in a home-and-home contract under the same contract regulations now in effect.

"We would also like to emphasize our willingness to take our athletic director and band director to Salem for a conference with your staff in order to clarify any misunderstandings that may exist.

"We will appreciate an early reply as to the decision of the Salem High School Advisory Board."

LYNCH SAID that Pelini received a reply from Grinnen on June 28 in which it was stated that the Salem athletic advisory board had agreed that no decision would be made on a home-and-home contract for the 1967 and 1968 football season until after the 1966 season.

The letter from Salem concluded: "If, because of the delay in our making a decision, East Liverpool would prefer to schedule another opponent on the Salem date, they should feel free to do so."

"After this letter from Salem, no further action was taken on the Salem - East Liverpool game," Lynch explained.

"On Dec. 5, 1966, I wrote to Mr. Grinnen explaining that I was new at East Liverpool and would appreciate any information that he could send me regarding the Salem - East Liverpool game."

He said Grinnen replied on Dec. 8, reviewing what had progressed.

"In reviewing the situation from school records," Lynch continued, "I would like to make the following additional points that have not been covered in the correspondence between the two schools.

"1. — Our records reveal that the Salem 1965 football game was the poorest attended. The advanced adult sale of tickets from Salem totaled 54 and the advanced student sale from Salem totaled 122. There is a question in my mind that with such a small visiting crowd and the apparently one - sided score (46-13) that this condition would create so many problems.

"2. — It is revealed that at the 1966 game played at Salem, more than $1,000 in advanced sales was turned in to Mr. Cope at Salem. Mr. Cope commented that he was well pleased to see such a wonderful following East Liverpool had at the game.

"IF ALL the statements stated above are true, a question is raised in my mind that Salem would be willing to subject their students and adult fans to the same police force, students and fans here in East Liverpool on Jan. 28, 1967, to play a basketball game in our Memorial Auditorium. Also, there is some question as to why Salem even bothered sending us a home-and-home football contract in which Salem would come to East Liverpool on Nov. 1, 1968, if the stated charges were so flagrant.

"Although only rumors — and I wish to stress this point—it has been said that the Salem football coach would like to play a weaker schedule, thus not meeting East Liverpool. I would suggest that if this rumor is correct that East Liverpool and Salem should break athletic relationships with good feelings toward each other and not make petty criticisms of East Liverpool students, adult fans and police force.

"Also rumored is that Salem's football coach at the Ohio High School Athletic Association investigation last Nov. 18 in Columbus said that he had no personal observations of the actions which resulted in the charges by him and only knew what had been reported to him."

LYNCH THEN quotes from the Salem News that "Salem isn't the only team to drop East Liverpool in the past few years. For similar reasons Steubenville, Toronto, Wellsville, Beaver Local and Oak Glen refuse to play East Liverpool."

His comment follows: "As near as I can tell from the information available, this statement is not entirely accurate. For example, we have not participated with Toronto in football on a home-and-home basis since 1959, at which time the football contract was severed amicably between both schools. The basketball relationship ended when Toronto would not change their schedule in order that we could schedule "Big 8" basketball opponents later in the year.

"The East Liverpool - Wellsville relationship was ended because we wanted to play an additional home game and the Wellsville game contract was the only contract coming up for renewal at that particular time. The series of home-and-home games was ended in 1952, and East Liverpool has played Wellsville two games since that time.

"Beaver Local was tendered a contract under the same terms that we had played them the previous four years. This contract was returned unsigned. There was no apparent ill feeling between the schools and I respect the right of Beaver Local school officials in the refusal of the contract.

"At this time no decision has been made on the Oak Glen game. A contract has been mailed recently to Oak Glen, but official action has not been taken.

"Steubenville severed relationships with East Liverpool over a concern of game conditions and no new negotiations at this time apparently will be made.

"The above information is not intended to create further difficulties between present and former opponents of East Liverpool High School. However, it is intended to give what I feel is a more accurate picture of the various things that have transpired concerning football relationships."

Man With Foot, Mouth Disease Is Sick Again

LONDON (AP) — Bob Brewis, 34, a farmhand who two months ago became the first human known to catch foot and mouth disease in Britain, is sick again.

A Conservative member of Parliament immediately demanded a government inquiry into why Brewis had been allowed to mix freely with other people.

Brewis was infected in November at his brother's farm in Northumberland, a county in northern England that lost $2.8 million worth of animals to the disease last year.

Brewis was hospitalized for a week and officials said tests unmistakably revealed foot and mouth disease.

Brewis was pronounced cured and allowed to go back to work — in a garage, by his choice. Later he moved to another farm and there he apparently suffered a relapse or contracted the disease a second time.

Watch, Glass Tariff Cut Set By President

WASHINGTON — President Johnson has rolled back two politically sensitive tariffs — those on watches and sheet glass.

Both tariffs had been raised to protect domestic industry, that on watches in 1954 and that on glass in 1962. The earlier actions caused vigorous protests from the main supplying countries, respectively Switzerland and Belgium.

Wednesday's action was regarded as a strong signal of U.S. desire for a sweeping reduction of tariffs in the so-called Kennedy Round of negotiations in Geneva now nearing their conclusion, provided there are reciprocal reductions by other trading nations.

The watch decision cuts the present duty on imported movements by about one-third. This amounts in most cases to less than $1 a watch and the effect of the decision on retail prices is not certain.

The glass decision did not involve a complete rollback of all the affected tariffs to the pre-1962 levels. For window glass, the rollback is only partial. Over-all the tariff was returned to the pre-1962 level on glass items accounting for $14-million of the $26-million of affected imports in 1956.

A top official said that the President's decision on watches and glass had taken "a lot of political guts."

State Evaluation Reported

Some Deficiencies Noted At High School In Lisbon

LISBON — David Anderson High School remains on the list of high schools approved by the State Department of Education.

However, the evaluation of a state consultant who visited the local school Dec. 16 reveals that the Ohio high school standards (minimum — 1957) are not fully met. DAHS has approximately 435 students.

Dr. Wade A. Bacon, president of the school board, said the difficulties are not peculiar to Lisbon, but confront all small high schools unable to provide the board educational program recommended by the state.

HE READ to the board Tuesday night a letter from Doyle K. Shumaker, secondary education consultant, who made the DAHS evaluation.

Shumaker said the school program "functions effectively under the direction of the principal (George M. Nace Jr.), and the new superintendent (Joe Driscoll) is to be commended for his efforts in identifying needs within the entire district."

The consultant also noted a continued concern by the administration and Board of Education toward curriculum over the last five years. He mentioned the addition of special education, French III, Earth Science, ability programs in Social Science and English, vocational welding, senior advanced math and participation in a newly - formed cooperetive vocational program with neighboring high schools.

Shumaker's letter from that point on dealt with deficiencies:

The present schedule offerings cannot be considered broad enough to provide a comprehensive program.

Major emphasis should be considered in the areas of Home Economics, Art, Industrial Arts and Business Education.

Instructional materials do not meet the needs in all areas of work — particularly in Art, Physical Education, Business Education, Business Education, Language Arts, Home Ec and Industrial Arts.

Physical facilities in several areas do not support the present program and will handicap continued efforts to provide a more effective, comprehensive program. Deficiencies were noted in Industrial Arts, Home Ec Library, Music and Biology.

THE TEACHER assigned to library responsibility and service does not have the required 15 semester hours in library science.

A physical education program which schedules students from Grades 9-12 in the same class cannot be considered as meeting the developmental needs of individual pupils.

The high school building, although well maintained, does not provide adequately for the expanded educational program.

The school was constructed in 1918 and there have been several additions — gymnasium and Industrial Arts in 1938, agricultural shop, 1950; art room, 1953, and welding shop addition to the Industrial Arts area, 1966.

Shumaker said the need is to continue development of the scope and breadth of the program to meet the needs, interest and abilities of the students.

He recommended that the Board of Education and the community study current trends in school district organization.

Dr. Bacon, who is president of the North East Ohio School Boards Association and a trustee of the state association, said the days of the small school district and small high school are numbered.

He said he believes school districts must combine so they will be large enough to support a broad educational program and complementary pupil services.

Watch, Glass Tariff Cut Set By President

WASHINGTON — President Johnson has rolled back two politically sensitive tariffs — those on watches and sheet glass.

Both tariffs had been raised to protect domestic industry, that on watches in 1954 and that on glass in 1962. The earlier actions caused vigorous protests from the main supplying countries, respectively Switzerland and Belgium.

Wednesday's action was regarded as a strong signal of U.S. desire for a sweeping reduction of tariffs in the so-called Kennedy Round of negotiations in Geneva now nearing their conclusion, provided there are reciprocal reductions by other trading nations.

The watch decision cuts the present duty on imported movements by about one-third. This amounts in most cases to less than $1 a watch and the effect of the decision on retail prices is not certain.

The glass decision did not involve a complete rollback of all the affected tariffs to the pre-1962 levels. For window glass, the rollback is only partial. Over-all the tariff was returned to the pre-1962 level on glass items accounting for $14-million of the $26-million of affected imports in 1956.

A top official said that the President's decision on watches and glass had taken "a lot of political guts."

State Evaluation Reported

Some Deficiencies Noted At High School In Lisbon

LISBON — David Anderson High School remains on the list of high schools approved by the State Department of Education.

However, the evaluation of a state consultant who visited the local school Dec. 16 reveals that the Ohio high school standards (minimum — 1957) are not fully met. DAHS has approximately 435 students.

Dr. Wade A. Bacon, president of the school board, said the difficulties are not peculiar to Lisbon, but confront all small high schools unable to provide the board educational program recommended by the state.

HE READ to the board Tuesday night a letter from Doyle K. Shumaker, secondary education consultant, who made the DAHS evaluation.

Shumaker said the school program "functions effectively under the direction of the principal (George M. Nace Jr.), and the new superintendent (Joe Driscoll) is to be commended for his efforts in identifying needs within the entire district."

The consultant also noted a continued concern by the administration and Board of Education toward curriculum over the last five years. He mentioned the addition of special education, French III, Earth Science, ability programs in Social Science and English, vocational welding, senior advanced math and participation in a newly - formed cooperetive vocational program with neighboring high schools.

Shumaker's letter from that point on dealt with deficiencies:

The present schedule offerings cannot be considered broad enough to provide a comprehensive program.

Major emphasis should be considered in the areas of Home Economics, Art, Industrial Arts and Business Education.

Instructional materials do not meet the needs in all areas of work — particularly in Art, Physical Education, Business Education, Business Education, Language Arts, Home Ec and Industrial Arts.

Physical facilities in several areas do not support the present program and will handicap continued efforts to provide a more effective, comprehensive program. Deficiencies were noted in Industrial Arts, Home Ec Library, Music and Biology.

THE TEACHER assigned to library responsibility and service does not have the required 15 semester hours in library science.

A physical education program which schedules students from Grades 9-12 in the same class cannot be considered as meeting the developmental needs of individual pupils.

The high school building, although well maintained, does not provide adequately for the expanded educational program.

The school was constructed in 1918 and there have been several additions — gymnasium and Industrial Arts in 1938, agricultural shop, 1950; art room, 1953, and welding shop addition to the Industrial Arts area, 1966.

Shumaker said the need is to continue development of the scope and breadth of the program to meet the needs, interest and abilities of the students.

He recommended that the Board of Education and the community study current trends in school district organization.

Dr. Bacon, who is president of the North East Ohio School Boards Association and a trustee of the state association, said the days of the small school district and small high school are numbered.

He said he believes school districts must combine so they will be large enough to support a broad educational program and complementary pupil services.

Candle Rite Observes Centennial Of Grange

LISBON — Mt. Nebo Grange had a special service Wednesday night, lighting the State Grange centennial candle for the first time.

Like other granges throughout Ohio this year, Mt. Nebo will light the centennial candle each meeting night at the beginning of the lecturer's program.

Charles L. Morlan, Columbiana County Grange deputy and a member of Mt. Nebo, lighted the candle as a representative of the State Grange. Participating in the ceremony were Howard Wilhelm, Master, Mrs. Viola Harrold, lecturer, and Mrs. Merle McPherson, chaplain.

Mrs. Wilhelm read a poem and Carl Bailey gave a reading. There was group singing with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Guy Frantz.

Members decided to proceed with additional work on the hall. The next meeting will be Jan. 25.

Sharing Plan

U.S., European Market Near Accord On Grains

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The United States and the European Common Market are moving toward a wide agreement on the sharing of man's basic food — grain.

Some progress may be made today at a meeting of cabinet ministers from the six Common Market countries: France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. The main battle will be fought in Geneva.

If an accord is reached, it will cover the whole non-Communist world and form an essential part of the Kennedy Round agreements on trade. It will cover not only the grains that humans eat, such as wheat and rye, but the feed grains needed for raising poultry, beef, pigs and other meat animals. The deadline for the Kennedy Round is June 30.

The idea of the agreement is to stabilize prices, production and markets. The United States also would like to make it a system for supplying aid to underdeveloped countries, especially India.

India's needs have absorbed a large proportion of the U.S. grain surplus, which has about disappeared. The United States wants other affluent countries to share the burden

The Common Market opposes putting aid arrangements in the grain agreement. The agreement, it says, should be about trade — not aid. It wants aid to be considered a different matter and handled elsewhere.

American farmers have also been worried about losing their excellent market for grain, especially feed grain, in Western Europe. The United States now sells the Common Market more than 10 million tons of feed grain a year, a large and increasingly important item in the effort to balance U.S. international payments and stop the outflow of gold.

The United States also sells wheat to Europe, but with rising prosperity West Europeans no longer eat as much bread and they have an increasing appetite for beef — much of its fed on American corn.

The American fear is that high prices guaranteed to farmers in the Common Market will encourage France to produce more. At the same time, high duties levied by the Common Market would keep American sales down.

A system has been devised to overcome this fear. Each area in the agreement would accept a "self-sufficiency rate."

The Common Market would be treated as a single area. The rate would be roughly equal to the percentage of its own requirements that the area has been producing in recent years, the rest being imported.

If an area should exceed its self-sufficiency rate, thus cutting down its imports, it would have to take remedial action.

Youth For Christ To Sponsor Rally Here Saturday

A Columbiana County Youth for Christ rally will be held Saturday, beginning at 7:30 p. m., at the Salvation Army auditorium.

The feature of the program will be a film, "Track 13," the story of true experiences. The introduction is narrated by the late Dr. Samuel Moor Shoemaker, who is nationally known among evangelical leaders.

The rally also will feature several quizzes in High and Junior High competition and music. Skits will include "The Storyless Reporter" and "Private Ear." Adults are invited to attend the rally, the sponsors said.

Allison Gets 3rd Southern Local Term

SALINEVILLE — Charles Allison was re - elected to a third term as president of the Southern Local School District Board of Education Wednesday night at the high school.

Philip Maher was named vice president and Mrs. Joan Dixon was rehired as clerk. The Citizens Banking Co. again was selected as depository of funds.

The board will continue to hold regular meetings the second Wednesday of each month, at 7:30 p. m. September through May and 8:30 p.m. June through August.

A temporary appropriation of $110,500 was authorized for the first three months of 1967.

The board set Feb. 7 as the date for a revision of school schedules and closing of three elementary buildings should a proposed levy be rejected by voters in a special election Jan. 24.

The board unanimously voted on the date for the action. The original motion to close the schools and change over to a double session operation daily remains on the books, being approved 4 to 1 in December.

Maher had voted against the original motion on the closings, but supported the motion setting the date.

The board went on record to maintain the present regular schedule and school operations should the proposed 4.5-mill levy pass.

Supt. Thomas Leek said the vote "is a chance for the public to ballot on whether or not the schools will remain open on a regular basis."

Permission was granted the Band Boosters to serve a dinner for the American Legion Feb. 4 at the Salineville School.

The next meeting will be Feb. 8.

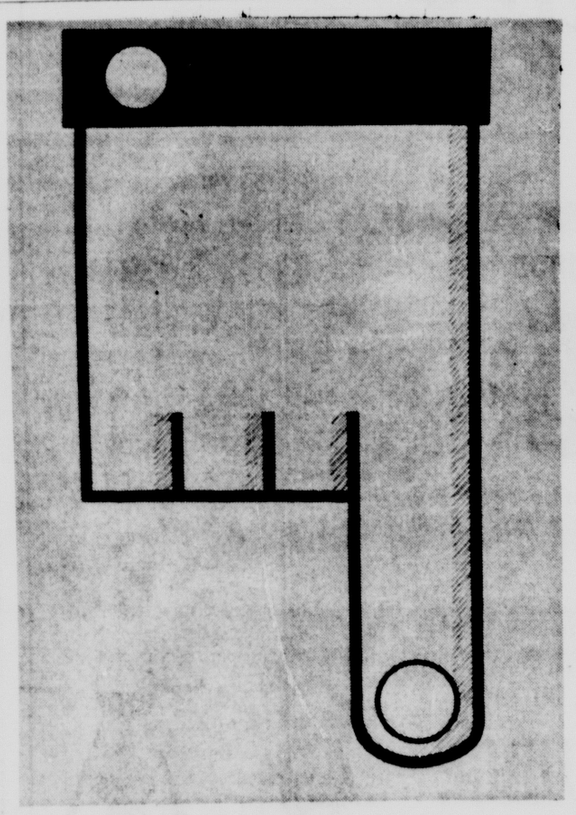

The oboe is considered the most melodious of the double-reed musical instruments.

Owner of the Midland State Farm Insurance Agency since Jan. 1, 1963, Vinovich is a 1955 graduate of Lincoln High School and served in the Navy in Alaska, California, Florida and Oklahoma as an aviation ordnanceman and flight crew member.

He and his wife, Linda, are the parents of Bill III, 6, Shelly Louise, 4, and Deanna Carol, 1.

He said the State Farm Agency will be open as usual.

Gets Federal Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Samuel M. Jones, Toledo attorney, has been named deputy assistant to the secretary for congressional relations, the Treasury Department announced Wednesday.

Federal Agency Confirms Approval Of Workable Plan

The Department of Housing and Urban Development confirmed in letters and certificates received Wednesday by Mayor George E. Willshaw that it has approved the city's so-called workable program for community development, opening up the door for local applications for federal loans and grants for various projects.

The mayor was advised of the action in a letter signed by John E. Kane, assistant regional coordinator of the agency's Chicago office. Kane's letter was accompanied by an official certification of the program's approval, signed by Don Hummel, assistant secretary of renewal and housing assistance.

East Liverpool's certification will continue through Jan. 1, 1968, subject to renewal at that time, Hummel's certification said. Regardless of the renewal of the certification, East Liverpool will continue to be eligible for three phases of the federal program: Title I urban renewal aid; low-rent public housing aid and mortgage and home-improvement loan insurance, the certification stipulates.

The mayor said the action's immediate effect will be felt primarily in the city's plans for construction of low-rent housing units. A preliminary planning loan already has been granted to the Columbiana Metropolitan Housing Authority, enabling it to hire an architect to prepare plans for the project.

The mayor forwarded the workable program to HUD's Chicago office on Oct. 22. It was approved there and then passed on to the central office at Washington. The effective date of the approval did not come until about a week ago.

The submission of the workable program ties in with East Liverpool's "master plan" for community growth and development, which has been in preparation more than two years. Federal laws require that a community must have an approved workable program before it can apply for U. S. loans and grants for any project.

Midland Council Advised About Incinerator Plans

A representative of Michael Baker Jr., Inc., Borough engineer, announced that plans for Midland's new incinerator should be completed by Feb. 1 when the Midland Borough Council met Wednesday night.

The plans will then be submitted to the Pennsylvania Health Department so a construction permit may be obtained.

All councilmen were asked to remain following the next regular meeting Jan. 25 for study of the budget.

The engineer said estimates had been prepared on certain items which should be included in the 1967 budget.

Raymond Presutti, vice president, presided in the absence of council president William J. Vinovich Sr.

Presutti said he had spoken with a representative of the Centre Video Co. concerning the delay in establishing cable television service in Midland. He said he was told it stems from delay in receiving pole rights from the Duquesne Light Co. and the Bell Telephone Co.

The engineer said he had received word the new tractor and snow blower should be received by the Borough within the next few days.

Councilmen will attend a reorganizational meeting of the Beaver County Boroughs Association Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the assembly room of the Beaver County court house.

Bills totaling $5,740 were approved.

Vinovich Plans Career With Ohio Highway Patrol

William J. Vinovich Jr. of 45-C Midland Heights, Midland, has accepted a position as a highway patrolman for the State of Ohio. He will begin his new career Jan. 18.

Owner of the Midland State Farm Insurance Agency since Jan. 1, 1963, Vinovich is a 1955 graduate of Lincoln High School and served in the Navy in Alaska, California, Florida and Oklahoma as an aviation ordnanceman and flight crew member.

He and his wife, Linda, are the parents of Bill III, 6, Shelly Louise, 4, and Deanna Carol, 1.

He said the State Farm Agency will be open as usual.

Gets Federal Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Samuel M. Jones, Toledo attorney, has been named deputy assistant to the secretary for congressional relations, the Treasury Department announced Wednesday.

Federal Agency Confirms Approval Of Workable Plan

The Department of Housing and Urban Development confirmed in letters and certificates received Wednesday by Mayor George E. Willshaw that it has approved the city's so-called workable program for community development, opening up the door for local applications for federal loans and grants for various projects.

The mayor was advised of the action in a letter signed by John E. Kane, assistant regional coordinator of the agency's Chicago office. Kane's letter was accompanied by an official certification of the program's approval, signed by Don Hummel, assistant secretary of renewal and housing assistance.

East Liverpool's certification will continue through Jan. 1, 1968, subject to renewal at that time, Hummel's certification said. Regardless of the renewal of the certification, East Liverpool will continue to be eligible for three phases of the federal program: Title I urban renewal aid; low-rent public housing aid and mortgage and home-improvement loan insurance, the certification stipulates.

The mayor said the action's immediate effect will be felt primarily in the city's plans for construction of low-rent housing units. A preliminary planning loan already has been granted to the Columbiana Metropolitan Housing Authority, enabling it to hire an architect to prepare plans for the project.

The mayor forwarded the workable program to HUD's Chicago office on Oct. 22. It was approved there and then passed on to the central office at Washington. The effective date of the approval did not come until about a week ago.

The submission of the workable program ties in with East Liverpool's "master plan" for community growth and development, which has been in preparation more than two years. Bill To Outlaw Nudist Colonies Slated In W.Va.

CHARLESTON (AP) — Driving the nudes from the hills of Mason County — and all other hills in West Virginia — will be considered by the West Virginia Legislature again this year.

State Sen. Randall Taylor, D-Mason, is making it his No. 1 task again this year to rid his region of those people who prefer outdoor living in the altogether.

Taylor reports he is preparing and will submit soon a bill to outlaw nudist colonies and, what's more, to make it a misdemeanor to sell property to any one planning to use the land for a nudist hideaway.

Taylor opened his campaign against nudism two years ago when a club called "Wevatan" opened a colony in the Mason County hills.

Although vandals tore down most of the facilities there last summer, Taylor said, a movement is afoot to move the group onto a 200-acre camp nearer the Ohio River.

"We're going to put a stop to it this year, wait and see," Taylor said.

The Rev. Arthur Walters of Beaver was moderator for the ceremony.

A brief program, directed by Mrs. Agnes Welch, was highlighted by Frank Rogers and his daughter who presented vocal duets. They were accompanied by Mrs. Robert Wolfe.

Mrs. Welch gave a brief history of the church, which was started in 1797. Mrs. Kidder presented the mortgage to Dawson, assistant chairman of the board of trustees, who then gave it to Mrs. Henderson, the oldest member present, who set it on fire.

Eugene Myers, a former member and elder of the church who was there when the mortgage was acquired, congratulated the church members for paying it off.

Mrs. Welch and Wolfe were elected elders for 3-year terms; Michael Haydin, congregational chairman; Donald Habedank and Martin Richard, trustees for 3 years; Floyd Allen, cemetery committee; Mrs. Richard Rice, Mrs. Michael Haydin, Mrs. Zella Wolfe and Mrs. Paul Dawson, kitchen committee; Mrs. Charles Petroski, Mrs. Leonard Beck, Mrs. Wesley Saucer and Mrs. Harold Hetrick, ways and means committee; Mrs. Martin, auditing committee, and Mrs. Kidder and Wolfe, tellers.

The total paid runs amounted to $650 — including nine house fires, 13 grass and wood fires, 13 auto wrecks, one false alarm, two oxygen runs, five mutual aid to other departments, six smoke investigations, one practice drill and two miscellaneous runs.

It was reported that the department has ordered a two-way radio to be installed in the brush fire truck.

Budget Hits High On Construction

FAIRMONT, W. Va. — The largest annual construction budget in the Monongahela Power Co.'s history, brought about by an ever - growing demand for electricity, will exceed $28,600,000 for 1967.

Donald M. Kammert, president of Monongahela Power, pointed out that construction of the giant Fort Martin generating station on the Monongahela River north of Morgantown and its related extra - high - voltage transmission network will account for $15 million of this record amount. Also included is another $2,600,000 for Monongahela's share of the recently-announced Hatfield's Ferry Sation, a jointly - owned project being built by Allegheny Power System.

HOWEVER, aside from the construction of the new power stations and related facilities, the 1967 budget for the expansion and strengthening of the company's regular transmission and distribution system and the building of needed new facilities will amount to nearly $11 million.

Ground for the Fort Martin Station was broken in 1964. Since then there has been a steady growth in system expenditures for construction. In 1962 the amount exceeded $8 million. It was $9,425,000 in 1963, $10,605,000 in 1964, $15,540,000 in 1965 and more than $23 million in 1966.

Kammert pointed out that additional amounts for new power generation facilities will continue to be part of Monongahela's annual expenditures for some time to come. The first 540,000-kilowatt unit of Fort Martin will be completed this spring, he said, and construction on the second unit will continue through most of 1968. Along with this will be increasing expenditures through 1971 for the Hatfield Station.

In the 1967 budget, nearly $6 million is earmarked for new extra high voltage (500,000 volts) lines and other major transmission facilities within the Mongahela service area. These EHV networks will tie Monongahela's generation facilities into a grid that will enable power to be transported economically from West Virginia to the metropolitan areas of the east.

KAMMERT SAID that the demand for electricity has been increasing from 6 to 8 per cent every year. In order to assure delivery of this increased production and to serve new industries and new customers, the company's transmission and distribution system needs to be kept continually ahead of the demand.

During 1967, this work will include $1,200,000 for improvements and extension of existing transmission lines, $2,100,000 for new and remodeled substations and about $5 million for new and remodeled distribution facilities.

Kammert pointed out that when this $8,300,000 is spent on new and remodeled transmission, distribution and substation facilities, a major emphasis will be on "beautility" — beauty in utility.

Major projects, other than transmission and distribution facilities that are being programmed for 1967, include completion and certain preliminary costs on new district and division complexes.

In announcing the 1967 construction budget, Kammert pointed out that he expects the final figures for 1966 on kilowatt-hour sales to be up some 8 per cent over 1965. This, Kammert said, reflects to some extent a response by the public to Monongahela's record rate cut of Jan. 1, 1966. The reduction put into effect on that date amounted to $2,200,000 during 1966.

Motion Sifted To Dismiss Criminal Charges On Baker

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Oliver Gasch has under advisement today a motion to dismiss the criminal charges against Bobby Baker because of electronic eavesdropping in the case.

Government prosecutors said they would develop testimony today involving the year 1962, when Baker is charged with filing a false income tax return.

He was secretary of the Senate Democratic majority at that time. Baker is charged also with income tax evasion in 1961 and with fraud and conspiracy in the handling of money.

Government prosecutor William O. Bittman said the trial, which opened Monday, was moving so quickly that "I think we can conclude our case in two weeks — more or less."

Baker's chief attorney, Edward Bennett Williams, filed the motion Wednesday to dismiss the charges. The government acknowledged electronic bugging of a meeting in a Los Angeles hotel room March 25, 1965, involving Baker and two others, but said the recording had no connection with the indictment against Baker.

Wednesday's testimony showed Baker had checking accounts in about a dozen different financial institutions.

It also brought an account from Gertrude C. Taylor, who was a partner with Baker in the Carousel motel, Ocean City, Md., in 1962, of the motel's financial troubles.

Six times between Nov. 1, 1962, and Jan. 15, 1963, she said, Baker gave her bundles of cash totaling $40,300, mostly in $100 bills. Mrs. Taylor said she deposited the money to Carousel accounts.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have been married for 40 long, boring, miserable, rotten years. I don't know how a woman of my intelligence and refinement could have chosen such a coarse, vulgar man.

All these years we have existed under the same roof, although we have nothing in common. He loves dirty jokes, hunting and fishing and plenty of sex. I'm soft-spoken, cultured and genteel.

Next year the slob retires and the thought of having him at home, under my feet all day, gives me a sick feeling at the pit of my stomach.

I want to do some traveling with people of my own class. We are financially able to take some lovely trips but he'd rather hunt and fish with his lowbrow friends.

I'm still attractive and could enjoy the companionship of a high-type man. Would a divorce at age 62 be such a terrible thing? — A REAL LADY.

Dear Lady: Your letter shows no trace of gentility, refinement or culture. And soft-spoken you aren't, Kiddo.

If your husband has been able to stand you for almost half a century I think you'd better not press your luck. Stay where you are and travel when he goes hunting and fishing.

Lucky 4.8

Dear Ann: You've done it again — exaggerated for effect, and I'm not going to let you get away with it. You told "Mrs. Shook-Up," whose husband drove like a mad man: "If all the wives who had this problem were lined up they would reach from the emergency ward of any Los Angeles hospital to any morgue in Manhattan."

Allowing 6 feet for each wife, and considering the shortest route between Los Angeles and Manhattan is 2,474 miles, 2,117,120 wives would fit this space. This means 4.8 per cent of the husbands who drive are speed maniacs.

Why, then, does the driving population kill only .025 per cent of the entire population yearly? Well? — D.D.

Dear Professor Einstein: Some people are just lucky, I guess.

Contents Noted

Dear Ann: You weren't very sympathetic to the young woman whose husband is in Vietnam. It seems her nosey mother-in-law wanted a phone call every time the young wife received a letter. You surprised me by taking the mother-in-law's side. I'm very disappointed in you, Ann.

I also have a husband in Vietnam, and I, too, feel that a letter from a husband is a very personal thing. My mother-in-law calls me every time she gets a letter from my husband, and she reads the letter on the phone. Then she asks me to read my latest letter.

I couldn't care less about what my husband writes to his mother and I think she has a nerve asking me to share my letters with her. So far I have gone along, (leaving out certain parts) just to keep peace in the family but I'm reaching the boiling point. Any advice— — ALSO POSSESSIVE.

Dear Also: There's a world of difference between letting your mother-in-law know you have received a letter from her son and reading it to her.

From now on telephone your mother-in-law when you receive a letter. Tell her that he sends his love and that the rest is man-and-wife talk. Boiling inside will only build an ulcer, Toots.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Pitt May Drop Trimester Plan; Enrollment Cited

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The University of Pittsburgh, a pioneer of the trimester system, may drop the three — term plan unless spring enrollment picks up.

"Unless third term enrollment can be increased, there is no advantage to retaining it," Acting Chancellor David H. Kurtzman said Wednesday.

The trimester was blamed last year by a Ford Foundation report as a major cause of Pitt's financial troubles in 1965. The system "failed dismally to appeal to those undergraduate students who would best sustain tuition income," the report said.

Purpose of the trimester is to permit year-round use of the university's physical facilities and to enable students to graduate a year sooner.

Kurtzman said Pitt is waiting to see if a recent tuition cut instituted when the school became state-related bolsters enrollment.

School officials will divide the spring term — mid — April to mid — August — into two 7½-week parts in hopes of increasing enrollment.

Baritone Will Present Concert Here Tuesday

William Metcalf, baritone soloist with the New York City Opera, will present the second concert of the season for the Tri - State Civic Music Association at 8:15 p. m. Tuesday at Westgate auditorium.

Completely American trained, the artist, a native of New Bedford, Mass., is a product of the New England Conservatory of Music and the Juilliard School in New York. He received critical acclaim for his highly successful Brahms "Requiem" with the Boston Symphony.

After extensive symphony and oratorio work, he turned his talents toward television, where his frequent appearances as soloist on the "Voice of Firestone" won him an enthusiastic nationwide following.

Appearances in opera at the Central City Festival and with the Philadelphia Grand Opera lead to his present starring roles with the New York City Opera. Equally at home on the recital stage, he has been hailed "as a performer of scrupulous taste and refinement."

Metcalf has a long list of musical comedy and operetta leads, which almost match his list of opera characterizations. The transition from the title role in the Cincinnati Opera's production of "Barber Of Seville" to the romantic lead in "The Great Waltz" within the space of a few days is an example of his versatility.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have been married for 40 long, boring, miserable, rotten years. I don't know how a woman of my intelligence and refinement could have chosen such a coarse, vulgar man.

All these years we have existed under the same roof, although we have nothing in common. He loves dirty jokes, hunting and fishing and plenty of sex. I'm soft-spoken, cultured and genteel.

Next year the slob retires and the thought of having him at home, under my feet all day, gives me a sick feeling at the pit of my stomach.

I want to do some traveling with people of my own class. We are financially able to take some lovely trips but he'd rather hunt and fish with his lowbrow friends.

I'm still attractive and could enjoy the companionship of a high-type man. Would a divorce at age 62 be such a terrible thing? — A REAL LADY.

Dear Lady: Your letter shows no trace of gentility, refinement or culture. And soft-spoken you aren't, Kiddo.

If your husband has been able to stand you for almost half a century I think you'd better not press your luck. Stay where you are and travel when he goes hunting and fishing.

Lucky 4.8

Dear Ann: You've done it again — exaggerated for effect, and I'm not going to let you get away with it. You told "Mrs. Shook-Up," whose husband drove like a mad man: "If all the wives who had this problem were lined up they would reach from the emergency ward of any Los Angeles hospital to any morgue in Manhattan."

Allowing 6 feet for each wife, and considering the shortest route between Los Angeles and Manhattan is 2,474 miles, 2,117,120 wives would fit this space. This means 4.8 per cent of the husbands who drive are speed maniacs.

Why, then, does the driving population kill only .025 per cent of the entire population yearly? Well? — D.D.

Dear Professor Einstein: Some people are just lucky, I guess.

Contents Noted

Dear Ann: You weren't very sympathetic to the young woman whose husband is in Vietnam. It seems her nosey mother-in-law wanted a phone call every time the young wife received a letter. You surprised me by taking the mother-in-law's side. I'm very disappointed in you, Ann.

I also have a husband in Vietnam, and I, too, feel that a letter from a husband is a very personal thing. My mother-in-law calls me every time she gets a letter from my husband, and she reads the letter on the phone. Then she asks me to read my latest letter.

I couldn't care less about what my husband writes to his mother and I think she has a nerve asking me to share my letters with her. So far I have gone along, (leaving out certain parts) just to keep peace in the family but I'm reaching the boiling point. Any advice— — ALSO POSSESSIVE.

Dear Also: There's a world of difference between letting your mother-in-law know you have received a letter from her son and reading it to her.

From now on telephone your mother-in-law when you receive a letter. Tell her that he sends his love and that the rest is man-and-wife talk. Boiling inside will only build an ulcer, Toots.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Pitt May Drop Trimester Plan; Enrollment Cited

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The University of Pittsburgh, a pioneer of the trimester system, may drop the three — term plan unless spring enrollment picks up.

"Unless third term enrollment can be increased, there is no advantage to retaining it," Acting Chancellor David H. Kurtzman said Wednesday.

The trimester was blamed last year by a Ford Foundation report as a major cause of Pitt's financial troubles in 1965. The system "failed dismally to appeal to those undergraduate students who would best sustain tuition income," the report said.

Purpose of the trimester is to permit year-round use of the university's physical facilities and to enable students to graduate a year sooner.

Kurtzman said Pitt is waiting to see if a recent tuition cut instituted when the school became state-related bolsters enrollment.

School officials will divide the spring term — mid — April to mid — August — into two 7½-week parts in hopes of increasing enrollment.

Shooting Accidental

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Police said Charles Thompson, 14, apparently fired by accident the rifle shot that killed his friend David Smith, 20, at Smith's home Wednesday.

Baritone Will Present Concert Here Tuesday

William Metcalf, baritone soloist with the New York City Opera, will present the second concert of the season for the Tri - State Civic Music Association at 8:15 p. m. Tuesday at Westgate auditorium.

Completely American trained, the artist, a native of New Bedford, Mass., is a product of the New England Conservatory of Music and the Juilliard School in New York. He received critical acclaim for his highly successful Brahms "Requiem" with the Boston Symphony.

After extensive symphony and oratorio work, he turned his talents toward television, where his frequent appearances as soloist on the "Voice of Firestone" won him an enthusiastic nationwide following.

Appearances in opera at the Central City Festival and with the Philadelphia Grand Opera lead to his present starring roles with the New York City Opera. Equally at home on the recital stage, he has been hailed "as a performer of scrupulous taste and refinement."

Metcalf has a long list of musical comedy and operetta leads, which almost match his list of opera characterizations. The transition from the title role in the Cincinnati Opera's production of "Barber Of Seville" to the romantic lead in "The Great Waltz" within the space of a few days is an example of his versatility.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: When I clean the oven with oven spray, the directions always say wipe with damp cloth or sponge. . . .

Last time, I happened to use the head of a floor mop . . . I wet it thoroughly, wrung it out and mopped the top side of my oven as neat as you please. It sure was easy on my back and arm muscles.

I found out this was a much safer way, Heloise, because I did not touch the cleanser or have the cleaning substance get on my arms or hands. What a quick way to clean an oven!

J.R.

You're an angel to tell us about this one.

Last week when I cleaned my oven after testing a hint, I cleaned three sides and had my husband come in and clean the fourth side! (Now he agrees that using foil in the oven is easier.)

Your mop idea was a dilly. Any kind of cotton mop head would serve this purpose. After all, why not clean with big sweep instead of a little one, if it saves you energy?

Also, are some of you aware that you can use cotton, floor wax applicators for this oven cleaning job?

Be sure always to wash any object you use, and rinse away these caustic products when you clean your oven. The best way I know is to use suds, and then rinse it in some vinegar water to counteract the caustic substances.

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: The neighborhood kids were going wild with my doorbell, and I couldn't seem to get it through their cottontops that they were constantly awakening my baby.

So I took the plate off the bell and placed a tissue in there.

Now it makes a nice, undisturbing KLINK-KLUNK instead of a big DING-DONG.

C.A.

DEAR HELOISE: Just dropped everything to write of my new brainstorm. Actually, it was an accidental discovery.

Yesterday morning, I thawed a pound of fish fillets and was just thinking of wrapping them to store until supper. . . .

There was a wide mouth mayonnaise jar in my dish rack, so I popped the raw fish in, screwed on the top and put in my refrig.

When I came home from work, all I had to do was throw my flour and seasonings into the jar with the fish and shake. It was then ready for the frying pan.

No mess and only one jar needed for the whole works.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I recommend that people buy a big mail receptacle. The type that fits on the inside of your front door or wall.

That way many items can be delivered to you instead of being returned to the post office. A big slot in the door or wall helps also.

Then the mail does not accumulate and show from the outside to announce your absence. A mail receptacle should at least completely swallow your largest magazine or newspaper.

WISC.

DEAR HELOISE: When I do my ironing, I clip a clothespin onto the top of a clotheshanger if the article of clothing on it needs a button, a seam stitched or some kind of repair.

These things can be done when you have time later. Because of the clothespin you know not to wear them until the repair work is done.

PEGGY.

DEAR HELOISE: I discovered that those punctured aluminum tins which bakery and frozen pies come in make wonderful pot lids.

I place the tin right sideup on the pan. The steam from the cooking food escapes through the holes and does not drip down over the sides of the pan or onto the stove.

ANNE MURRAY.

DEAR HELOISE: Not only do the new soft margarine tubs make good leftover containers, but try 'em for keeping necklace and earring sets in order in your drawers.

They stack beautifully and you can label the lids.

PHYLLIS SMITH.

DEAR HELOISE: When I clean my bedrooms, I lay out a large piece of clear plastic over my bedspread.

Then as I dust the dresser, etc., I put the articles on the plastic, thus keeping my bedspread clean.

'Pollution Goal Achieved,' Valley Sanitation Unit Says

CINCINNATI (AP) — The eight-state Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission (ORSANCO) reported Wednesday its goal of an Ohio Valley pollution control program "has been virtually achieved."

The statement was contained in the commission's annual report sent to the governor's of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Virginia, West Virginia and Kentucky.

Orsanco was formed in 1948 to coordinate a program of river cleanup.

The report showed there are only 324 communities, with a total population of 574,034, where there are no sewage treatment facilities and no construction started. There are 2 in Illinois, 68 in Indiana, 11 in Kentucky, 4 in New York, 32 in Ohio, 109 in Pennsylvania, 19 in Virginia, and 79 in West Virginia.

Only 35 industries in the eight states have taken no action to install waste control facilities. There are 2 in Illinois, none in Indiana, 1 in Kentucky, 5 in New York, 5 in Ohio, 17 in Pennsylvania, 1 in Virginia and 4 in West Virginia.

The report said that while accomplishments thus far signify attainment of a primary goal in the mission of Orsanco, this by no means satisfies the ultimate sign to restore the wholesomeness of waters in the Ohio Valley.

Program components now receiving attention include upgrading of waste treatment requirements and the extension of custodial functions.

Howard Wise presided at the meeting attended by 17.

DEAR HELOISE: Just dropped everything to write of my new brainstorm. Actually, it was an accidental discovery.

Yesterday morning, I thawed a pound of fish fillets and was just thinking of wrapping them to store until supper. . . .

There was a wide mouth mayonnaise jar in my dish rack, so I popped the raw fish in, screwed on the top and put in my refrig.

When I came home from work, all I had to do was throw my flour and seasonings into the jar with the fish and shake. It was then ready for the frying pan.

No mess and only one jar needed for the whole works.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I recommend that people buy a big mail receptacle. The type that fits on the inside of your front door or wall.

That way many items can be delivered to you instead of being returned to the post office. A big slot in the door or wall helps also.

Then the mail does not accumulate and show from the outside to announce your absence. A mail receptacle should at least completely swallow your largest magazine or newspaper.

WISC.

DEAR HELOISE: When I do my ironing, I clip a clothespin onto the top of a clotheshanger if the article of clothing on it needs a button, a seam stitched or some kind of repair.

These things can be done when you have time later. Because of the clothespin you know not to wear them until the repair work is done.

PEGGY.

DEAR HELOISE: I discovered that those punctured aluminum tins which bakery and frozen pies come in make wonderful pot lids.

I place the tin right sideup on the pan. The steam from the cooking food escapes through the holes and does not drip down over the sides of the pan or onto the stove.

ANNE MURRAY.

DEAR HELOISE: Not only do the new soft margarine tubs make good leftover containers, but try 'em for keeping necklace and earring sets in order in your drawers.

They stack beautifully and you can label the lids.

PHYLLIS SMITH.

DEAR HELOISE: When I clean my bedrooms, I lay out a large piece of clear plastic over my bedspread.

Then as I dust the dresser, etc., I put the articles on the plastic, thus keeping my bedspread clean.

'Pollution Goal Achieved,' Valley Sanitation Unit Says

CINCINNATI (AP) — The eight-state Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission (ORSANCO) reported Wednesday its goal of an Ohio Valley pollution control program "has been virtually achieved."

The statement was contained in the commission's annual report sent to the governor's of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Virginia, West Virginia and Kentucky.

Orsanco was formed in 1948 to coordinate a program of river cleanup.

The report showed there are only 324 communities, with a total population of 574,034, where there are no sewage treatment facilities and no construction started. There are 2 in Illinois, 68 in Indiana, 11 in Kentucky, 4 in New York, 32 in Ohio, 109 in Pennsylvania, 19 in Virginia, and 79 in West Virginia.

Only 35 industries in the eight states have taken no action to install waste control facilities. There are 2 in Illinois, none in Indiana, 1 in Kentucky, 5 in New York, 5 in Ohio, 17 in Pennsylvania, 1 in Virginia and 4 in West Virginia.

The report said that while accomplishments thus far signify attainment of a primary goal in the mission of Orsanco, this by no means satisfies the ultimate sign to restore the wholesomeness of waters in the Ohio Valley.

Program components now receiving attention include upgrading of waste treatment requirements and the extension of custodial functions.

James Reed, director, announced the first practice session for the annual minstrel show will be held Monday at 7 p. m. at the school. Mrs. William Crawford is accompanist and producer. Reed said any area residents may participate.

Howard Wise presided at the meeting attended by 17.

Strip Mining Bill Offered By Lausche

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to regulate future strip and surface mining of coal and for the reclamation of lands and waters damaged by such mining was proposed today by Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio.

The principal objectives of the bill, co - sponsored by Sens. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio and Hugh Scott, R-Pa., are to:

1. Establish federal laws and regulations requiring the industry to adequately reclaim lands to be mined in the future.

2. Provide for federal assistance in reclaming the approximately 3.6 million acres which have been ravaged by strip mining.

Lausche said there is no doubt that existing laws in some states will be well within any federal minimum standards. The bill provides, as a condition precedent to financial assistance from the federal government, that strong state laws must be in effect.

Of an estimated 200,000 acres in Ohio that have been "churned by monster machines," Lausche said, more than 33,500 acres remain unreclaimed; 22,000 acres have been partially reclaimed; and of the 123,000 acres listed as reclaimed, many would not meet general land and water conservation standards.

With wise management policies, many of the mined acres in affected states could have been the richest part of America today," Lausche said.

"Instead, they have become synonymous with poverty of land and people. This did not occur by accident; it is the result of many years of remorseless exploitation."

Fund Drive Set To Save First Educational TV

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— A public fund drive to save station WCET, the nation's first educational television outlet, got under way here today on the heels of word that the station soon would close for lack of funds.

Voters in November and again in a special election Dec. 9, rejected a city-wide school levy which would have netted $4.5 million annually for classroom operations. Out of this, the board of education has contributed $117,000 annually to WCET.

But hardly had Charles Vaughn, the station's general manger announced WCET's dim future—in large part, he said, because of curtailments brought about by election results—when the United States Citizens Committee, a private group, contributions followed.

'66 Increase Shown By Recorder's Office

LISBON — The Columbiana County recorder's office recorded 10,854 instruments in 1966, compared with 7,915 in 1965, according to Recorder John P. Wargo.

He said the 4,054 deeds recorded last year had a consideration of $16,753,881. These figures compare with 3,476 and $18,031,814 for the year before.

Wargo listed the following totals for 1966:

Mortgages, 2,561 ($29,971,173); mortgage cancellations, 2,704 ($21,425,043); leases, 390; federal tax liens, 259; unemployment compensation liens, 64; service discharges, 428, and receipts, $33,842.

Due Honorary Degree

WILBERFORCE, Ohio (AP)— The executive director of the National Urban League, Whitney M. Young Jr., will receive an honorary doctor of humanities degree from Wilberforce University at a convocation Jan. 19.

Club Hears Schreiber, Conducts Installation

ROY COOPER
New Kiwanis President.

More than 70 Kiwanis Club members and guests at an installation dinner Wednesday night heard Art Schreiber, Westinghouse Broadcasting Co. news executive, recount some of the behind - the - scene aspects of stories he has covered.

Roy Cooper, president, and other club officers were installed during the event at the Country Club by Kiwanis Lt. Gov. John O. Beck of Lisbon.

Schreiber, former East Liverpool resident now headquartered at Washington, discussed the wide - ranging field of radio news coverage in his career, from Presidents Johnson and Kennedy to the early manned space shots and touring with the Beatles.

"The President is the busiest man in the world," Schreiber declared, "and serving as a White House correspondent is fun, but it also has its moments of torment and turmoil."

He referred to President Johnson's reluctance to give newsmen advance notice of moves or announcements which results in some sudden, unexpected and frantic trips or communications changes for the journalists.

His most difficult assignment, he said, was covering the funeral of President Kennedy — the touching moment when Mrs. Kennedy kissed the flag on the coffin, son John's saluting and the fly-over of the presidential plane.

The violence of the civil rights marches and the Beatles tour were also highlights described.

Schreiber spoke to an East Liverpool High School assembly yesterday morning.

Installed by Kiwanis were Ronald Mason, first vice president; Dayton Allen, second vice president; Harry George treasurer; Rowland Kaufman, secretary; James Walker, past president, and James McGowan, Tait Hilbert and Lloyd Babb, directors.

Selections were sung by a quartet consisting of Kaufman, Collin Neal, Norman Nicely and Mason.

Jack Hales was master of ceremonies.

Club Hears Schreiber, Conducts Installation

More than 70 Kiwanis Club members and guests at an installation dinner Wednesday night heard Art Schreiber, Westinghouse Broadcasting Co. news executive, recount some of the behind - the - scene aspects of stories he has covered.

Roy Cooper, president, and other club officers were installed during the event at the Country Club by Kiwanis Lt. Gov. John O. Beck of Lisbon.

Schreiber, former East Liverpool resident now headquartered at Washington, discussed the wide - ranging field of radio news coverage in his career, from Presidents Johnson and Kennedy to the early manned space shots and touring with the Beatles.

"The President is the busiest man in the world," Schreiber declared, "and serving as a White House correspondent is fun, but it also has its moments of torment and turmoil."

He referred to President Johnson's reluctance to give newsmen advance notice of moves or announcements which results in some sudden, unexpected and frantic trips or communications changes for the journalists.

His most difficult assignment, he said, was covering the funeral of President Kennedy — the touching moment when Mrs. Kennedy kissed the flag on the coffin, son John's saluting and the fly-over of the presidential plane.

The violence of the civil rights marches and the Beatles tour were also highlights described.

ROY COOPER
New Kiwanis President.

Schreiber spoke to an East Liverpool High School assembly yesterday morning.

Installed by Kiwanis were Ronald Mason, first vice president; Dayton Allen, second vice president; Harry George treasurer; Rowland Kaufman, secretary; James Walker, past president, and James McGowan, Tait Hilbert and Lloyd Babb, directors.

Selections were sung by a quartet consisting of Kaufman, Collin Neal, Norman Nicely and Mason.

Jack Hales was master of ceremonies.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN HORN

Sounding Mark Twain

Hal Holbrook, whose one-man Broadway show, "Mark Twain Tonight!", will be presented by CBS-TV in 90-minute version March 6, is headed for Toronto to prepare for a week of performances, Jan. 15-21, just to limber up the part he has been acting intermittently for 15 years.

In the show, Holbrook plays Samuel Langhorne Clemens as the author-humorist was in his funny, electrifying lecture appearances in cigar and white suit (winter or summer) at the turn of this century.

THE INTERPRETATION, in material gathered by the performer, includes the enacting of five characters in a selection from the great American novel, "Huckleberry Finn."

After the week on the Canadian boards, Holbrook will do the show twice before a special invited audience of college, theater and newspaper people Jan. 28-29 while television cameras grind.

The weekend taping will take place in New York City's Little Theater off Times Square, where Merv Griffin originates his syndicates guest-and-gab show five nights a week.

JOHNNY CARSON slips into the elevator along about 2:45 p.m., the last of the group to get on. He tries to be unobtrusive. He keeps his head down, whispers the floor (7). He is in sports jacket, topcoat, no hat, no tie.

NBC employes ignore him. At the second floor, local newsmen get out. Carson steps back. RCA Building sightseers get in.

A woman looks at Carson. She nudges her neighbor, who looks and nudges her neighbor. The three stare.

One finally says directly to Johnny: "Look who it is!" Carson grins. "Is that good or bad?" he asks.

Giggles.

"Good," one says at last. He grins some more. They giggle some more. At the seventh floor, he slips out.

That was the scene at NBC one day this week.

"EVERY MAN has a dream of Paradise. There is no work. Fruit falls from trees. Lovely women abound," said producer Martin Carr, who returned last week from France.

"Paul Gauguin had this dream, and it has grown to a legend. He did not find Paradise. All he found was what he was trying to escape from. He found that modern man is trapped in his civilization. The genius of the artist, however, is that what failed him as a man is caught triumphantly in his paintings."

Carr has spent several months in Tahiti and France on the trail of the Gauguin legend, tracing it all the way back to Brittany, where the Paris-born painter turned his back on European society and art and began his search for his innocent Eden.

The legend will be the subject of an hour CBS documentary to be aired sometime in the spring, probably April.

The theme, the producer says, is vividly outlined in Dengt Danielson's book, "Gauguin in the South Seas." Danielson, a Swedish anthropologist, is one of the four men who crossed the Pacific on the Kon-Tiki raft 15 years ago.

NBC CONTINUES to lead the Nielsen ratings parade, widening its lead over CBS in the latest report for the two weeks ending Dec. 18. In news, the peacock crowed about three items: its "Battle for Asia" was the most popular news special, CBS' fixed hour of news (Tuesday night)" may not be the best way to present this type of format," and Huntley-Brinkley (16.9) beat Walter Cronkite (15.0) by the "biggest margin in two years." . . .

For $2 million, ABC will telecast "The Robe," the 1952 film with Richard Burton, Jean Simmons and Victor Mature, the next two Easter Sundays. Only one middle commercial will interrupt the 2½-hour program March 26. . . .

An international Picasso exhibition via NBC television will originate in four urban centers on two continents Feb. 5: Paris, London, New York and Dallas-Fort Worth. One of the master's works will be auctioned off to help the restoration of flood-damaged Italian art. . . .

To nobdy's surprise, Jackie Gleason agreed to another season of variety-comedy on Saturday nights for CBS. His series has been having its best season yet.

Gets Life In Prison

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — Gary Lee Sherman, 24, Newark, changed his plea to guilty Wednesday and was sentenced to life in prison for the fatal stabbing of his wife, Jeanne, 22, last July.

Most of the world's icebergs are created along the western coast of Greenland.

No Miscarriage, Newspapers Say Of Sophia Loren

ROME (AP) — Italian newspapers said today fears that Sophia Loren had suffered a miscarriage proved unwarranted. The newspapers said, however, the condition of the actress still caused concern.

The newspapers published reports Wednesday that Miss Loren, 31, had lost the baby she expects in May or might be about to lose it. The reports came after her doctor spent the night at the clinic where she is under treatment.

Her husband, movie producer Carlo Ponti, spent most of Wednesday afternoon at her bedside and said afterward she was "tolerably well." He said there had been no change in her condition."

Her doctor, Prof. Pietro Marziale, refused to comment. When she entered the clinic from her villa outside Rome four days ago, Marziale said her condition was good and that she was in the clinic only for routine tests.

The actress has suffered three miscarriages before her present pregnancy. This time she canceled all movie-making and public appearances and remained at her villa, reportedly spending most of her time in bed.

The newspapers published reports Wednesday that Miss Loren, 31, had lost the baby she expects in May or might be about to lose it. The reports came after her doctor spent the night at the clinic where she is under treatment.

Her husband, movie producer Carlo Ponti, spent most of Wednesday afternoon at her bedside and said afterward she was "tolerably well." He said there had been no change in her condition."

Her doctor, Prof. Pietro Marziale, refused to comment. When she entered the clinic from her villa outside Rome four days ago, Marziale said her condition was good and that she was in the clinic only for routine tests.

The actress has suffered three miscarriages before her present pregnancy. This time she canceled all movie-making and public appearances and remained at her villa, reportedly spending most of her time in bed.

Stock Market Marks Day It Won't Forget

NEW YORK (AP) — That was a day Wall Street won't soon forget: A sharp loss, an equally dramatic gain and the second heaviest trading since 1929.

These were the vagaries of the stock market Wednesday, following President Johnson's request, in the State of the Union address to Congress, for a 6 per cent surcharge on income taxes.

The market reacted by falling off 11.47 points to 802.67 in the first half-hour of trading Wednesday. But "bargain hunters" jumped in and a rally began. The drop was recovered by early afternoon.

When the National City Bank of Minneapolis announced later it was cutting its prime interest rate from 6 to 5¾ per cent — indicative of loosening credit conditions — the news spurred trading on to a strong recovery, closing with a gain of 8.35 points to 822.49.

The average price per share of all common stocks on the New York Stock Exchange bounded from a morning loss of 59 cents to a closing gain of 38 cents.

Stock market volume soared to 13.24 million shares, third heaviest in history. The two heaviest days were 14.7 million shares traded May 29, 1962, and 16.4 million shares on Oct. 29, 1929. Tuesday's vlume was 8.12 million shares.

Rail Firm Cites Loss On Trains In Beaver Valley

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad has told the state Public Utility Commission commuter service between Pittsburgh and the Ohio and Beaver valleys is costing the line $100,000 a year.

The P&LE has asked the commission for permission to end all commuter service west of Beaver Falls and for elimination of three of its five daily trains between that community and Pittsburgh.

Testifying Wednesday at the first of three days of hearings into the proposal, the railroad said it would maintain one inbound and one outbound train at an annual loss of $32,000.

Several representatives of the Beaver Valley objected to the proposal.

Robert Morrow, president of the Beaver Chamber of Commerce, said the area needs additional train service rather than a cut.

State Rep. Robert A. Davis of Beaver urged postponement of the P&LE curtailment until the Beaver Valley Eexpressway is completed — estimated to be in two to three years.

Humphrey Sees East-West Trade Blocks Removed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says President Johnson believes the cold war is over. Humphrey predicts Congress will respond by lowering East-West trade barriers.

Although there is strong opposition in Congress to relaxing restrictions with countries which oppose the American course in Vietnam, Humphrey said in an interview he believes members are in a mood to "face up to changing world conditions."

"Internationally the President is cutting some new ground with his call for passage of an East-West trade bill and his request for ratification of the consular convention with the Soviets," Humphrey said. "I believe that both of these should and will be approved.

"I know that as far as he is concerned the cold war is over and he is looking ahead to an era of international cooperation which could lead to a lasting peace."

U.S. Steel Joins Hike On Tubular Products

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Top-ranked U.S. Steel Corp. has joined some other producers in raising prices on tubular products.

U.S. Steel said the increases, effective Jan. 23, average 2.5 per cent on oil country goods, line pipe, standard pipe and raw conduit manufactured by the continuous welding and seamless processes.

In announcing the price hikes Wednesday, the firm said the products affected account for less than one-quarter of one per cent of its shipments.

Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. initiated the increase last week, estimated by the firm at 2.7 per cent. Pittsburgh Steel Co. and Republic Steel Corp. announced similar hikes Tuesday.

Copper mining, iron pyrites and asbestos are the main industries of Cyprus.

Fire Hits East End Home

Fire caused an estimated $1,500 damage to a two-story frame home on Erie St., East End, at 8:54 a. m. today.

A city fireman is shown preparing to pour more water into the kitchen at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Leavelle of 1193 Erie St.

Firemen said the blaze originated in the kitchen and extended into the dining room. The kitchen was damaged extensively, while the walls and paint in the dining room were damaged by smoke and heat.

Firemen used two booster lines and laid a 1½-inch line from a hydrant to fight the blaze. The East End station and a squad from Central Station answered the alarm.

Leavelle was singed about the head when he ran through the flames. He apparently was outside and entered through the rear door into the kitchen.

One fireman fell while rounding a corner, but escaped injury. Firemen said the blaze may have been started when clothing hanging in the kitchen was ignited by the cooking stove.

While Chasing Speeder

Officer Escapes Unhurt In Collision Of Patrol Car

A 22-year-old State Highway Patrol officer escaped injury early today when his cruiser went out of control on a W. 3rd St. curve as he pursued a speeder — striking a utility pole and then veering diagonally across the street and hitting a parked auto.

Patrolman Norman L. Carroll Jr., who resides on Anderson Blvd., said he was pursuing a speeding pickup truck inbound on the California Hollow section of the Freeway and his cruiser went out of control on the stretch just east of the Newell Bridge where the four - lane highway gradually tapers to two lanes and joins with W. 3rd St.

The cruiser struck a utility pole on the south side of W. 3rd St., tearing out a ground wire, then veered diagonally across the street and struck a parked 1960 model convertible owned by Frances Cutwright of 414 Walnut St., East Liverpool police reported. Patrolman Paul C. Blevins of the local department investigated.

The crash was timed at 2:24 a. m. It caused heavy damage to both the front and rear of the patrol car — a 1965 sedan — and also caused extensive damage to the Cutwright auto, officers said.

The damaged utility pole sits on the south side of W. 3rd at the west line of Persimmon Alley, according to the police report. The Cutwright car was parked 129 feet east of the west line of Persimmon Alley.

The state patrol officer said he was pursuing a light - colored pickup truck carrying Ohio license plates.

Meanwhile, James E. Nottingham of 721 North St. told police the left rear fender and bumper of his parked 1965 sedan were scratched when it was struck by a backing auto about 8 p. m. Wednesday on Riverview St. The driver of the backing car left the scene, he reported.

'Dimes' Child Selected

A 2-year-old Industry boy has been chosen Beaver County's 1967 March of Dimes poster child.

Gerald Doyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Doyle of Meadowbrook, was born with an open spine — one of some 250,000 babies born annually with serious birth defects who are aided by the annual March of Dimes fund campaign this month.

Physicians are pleased with the improvement the boy has made recently. At first they told the Doyles he would be paralyzed from the waist down, but he can now stand with braces, and some day may possibly take steps without them.

Gerry has undergone four operations, the first when he was only two weeks old.

The second operation, one week later, provided for the insertion of a shunt, or tube, in the base of the brain to drain off spinal fluid into the circulatory system.

In addition the spinal disorder, Gerry was born with club feet. A third and fourth operation was performed last year to straighten his feet and lengthen his heel cords to avoid a malady known as "dropped feet." He still wears corrective shoes.

The Doyles have two other children, Maureen 4, and Danny, 3.

Doyle, 43, works as a tractor operator at Crucible Steel Co., Midland, while his wife takes care of the children. The financial burden of caring for Gerry has been offset somewhat with aid from the March of Dimes Foundation, but after suffering a couple of setbacks at the mill and with the expense of paying for a new home, the situation sometimes becomes a little tight.

The expense will not let up as Gerry gets older. He had been going to Children Hospital, Pittsburgh, for treatment but he may soon have to be enrolled for treatment at the Crippled Childrens Home in Squirrel Hill. New sets of braces will also be needed every two or three years.

When Gerry smiles, one can almost forget about the braces on his legs and that he may never be able to walk.

Nursing Guidance Test To Be Given At Lisbon

LISBON — The National League for Nursing's pre-nursing and guidance examination will be given in Columbiana County this year for the first time.

David Anderson High School at Lisbon is the NLN - approved test center for examinations Jan. 21 and Feb. 18.

The NLN selected as test supervisor Cornell P. Monda, Lisbon school psychologist and a member of the American Psychological Association and the American Personnel and Guidance Association. Monday also supervises the college entrance examination board tests which have been held in Lisbon the last eight years.

NLN examination scores assist schools of nursing in the selection and guidance of applicants seeking to become professional nurses.

EAST LIVERPOOL City Hospital has the only school of professional nursing in the county.

The nearest NLN examination centers previously were Canton, Youngstown and Pittsburgh. Accordingly, applicants from a wide area could be assigned to take the exam at Lisbon. Monda said he has not received word about the number of applicants to expect. The examination will be given morning and afternoon, with one hour for lunch.

Monda said Miss Ethlyn Exley, former director of East Liverpool City Hospital School of Nursing, was responsible for getting an NLN county test center. Miss Exley resigned last fall to become an instructor at Ball State Teachers College, Muncie, Ind.

Monda said he tried to set up the test in East Liverpool but was advised school board policy does not permit free use of buildings.

The NLN brochure of examination centers lists East Liverpool, but NLN has approved the change of sites on Monda's recommendation. He also received authority to change the first examination from Jan. 14 to Jan. 21 because the "college boards" examination will be given here the 14th.

EACH SCHOOL of nursing sets its own standards for evaluating applicants and NLN is not involved in this procedure, the brochure states.

Test results show how applicants score compared with other applicants who have taken the test. There are no passing or failing marks. Scores are forwarded to the nursing school designated by the applicant.

The brochure says schools of nursing consider other factors in addition to test scores in deciding which applicants to admit.

Monda said the NLN examination should not be confused with the examination given applicants for Hannah E. Mullins School of Practical Nursing at Salem City Hospital.

Elephants vanished from North America about 10,000 years ago. Their bones are sometimes found with the spear and arrow points apparently used by prehistoric hunters to kill them. Some archeologists believe that the prehistoric Americans may have hunted the pachyderms to extinction.

3 Lobstermen Facing Quiz On Shooting

MARATHON, Fla. (AP) — Federal agents held three lobster fishermen for questioning today after a gun battle on the high seas over rich lobster territory off Cuba.

A crewman was killed and a captain was injured in the battle in the Atlantic Wednesday.

The three men were whisked away by federal agents after a Coast Guard cutter brought them ashore.

They were identified as Raymond C. Vanyo of Key West, skipper of the Trojan, and two crewmen on the Trojan, Nevin Robert Fitz and George Broome. No charges were placed against them.

The incident, which occurred in the area of Dog Rocks near Cay Sal off the Cuba coast, was the latest outbreak among Florida's lobstermen who guard their traps carefully.

The dead crewman was identified by friends as Vernon Austin, of Marathon, the father of six.

Wounded was William A. Branthoover, 33, skipper of the 39-foot Bahama Mama. Branthoover was reported in fair condition in a Miami hospital. He said the shooting among the fishermen lasted about an hour.

Austin was on board the Billy J., sister boat of the Bahama Mama. Also aboard the Billy J. was John Miller, Branthoover's father-in-law.

Feuds among lobster fishermen are not uncommon in Florida — mainly because the traps are easy prey to passing boats. Even weekend sailors can lift the traps and collect dozens of lobster in a few hours.

A good fisherman can make $15,000 to $20,000 a year in Florida's $12-million lobster business.

Big operators have been complaining to authorities that their traps are being attacked by what they call "cheapies" who secure license for a small legitimate operation but later clean out other traps.

During the council session, the group discussed various problems faced by students — finances, admissions, scholarships, college boards, college entrance exams, etc.

The group then attended the Mt. Union - Muskingum basketball game.

Couple Hurt In Collision

A LaCroft couple was injured when its station wagon was hit in the rear on Route 267, a mile and eight-tenths north of the city limits Wednesday at 12:40 p. m.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the accident involved a 1960 station wagon operated by Mrs. Lucy B. Cronin, 35, of 2117 LaCroft Ave., LaCroft, and a 1957 sedan operated by Robert Harold Cook, 19, of 969 Ohio Ave.

An unidentified mail truck was stopped, partially off the road, when Mrs. Cronin halted behind it. Her car was then struck in the rear by Cook, officers reported. Cook was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Mrs. Cronin was admitted to City Hospital with a possible whiplash injury. She was in "fair" condition today.

Her husband, Homer Cronin, was treated for possible injuries of the pelvis and spine.

A semi-tractor trailer rig owned by Wilbur J. Hawthorn of 401 N. Beaver St., Lisbon, figured in a three-way collision Wednesday at 3:24 p. m. on Route 30, about 50 feet east of the Minerva city limits.

Nelson J. Lower Jr., 34, of Salem, the truck driver, halted for a school bus. Robert J. Webber, 29, of Hanoverton R. D. 1 halted his car behind the truck and it was struck in the rear by another car operated by Randy Elton, 16, of Minerva R. D. 2, officers reported.

The Webber car was shoved into the rear of the truck trailer. Elkton was cited for failure to halt in the assured clear distance.

The word "gauze" evolved from Gaza, the great trade center in Biblical Palestine and a city famous for its light textiles.

Easier Credit Seen Despite Tight Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — Money remains tight in many parts of the nation but signs of easier credit are mounting.

The first chink in the 6 per cent prime interest rate that banks charge their favored customers for loans came Wednesday when a relatively small Minnesota institution reduced its rate from 6 per cent to 5.75 per cent.

Isolated action by the National City Bank of Minneapolis surprised many bankers but it was hailed by the Treasury Department.

"The Treasury is heartened and pleased at this early movement in the direction of lower interest rates that the President advocated in the State of the Union message," the department said in response to an inquiry.

Moreland Loses Key Post In Committees' Overhaul

CHARLESTON (AP) — Senate Majority Leader William A. Moreland, D-Monongalia, lost his chairmanship of the powerful Judiciary Committee Wednesday in the Senate overhauling of its committee system in the West Virginia legislature.

Moreland was retained as floor leader — a position he has held the past three sessions — but Senate President Howard W. Carson, D-Fayette, said the switch was needed because Moreland in the last two sessions has held down both jobs and that each is a full-time position.

"One man shouldn't be required to do two full - time jobs, especially on a committee which handles 75 per cent or more of the Senate's work," Carson explained.

The Senate streamlining reduced the number of standing committees from 28 to 15.

In a speech to the Senate shortly after being re-elected president, Carson said the reduction will help the Senate control its work load, "promote efficiency" and in the long haul result "in the improvement of the legislature."

The Senate's committee overhauling was in conjunction with a similar streamlining in the House.

Fire Hits East End Home

Fire caused an estimated $1,500 damage to a two-story frame home on Erie St., East End, at 8:54 a. m. today.

A city fireman is shown preparing to pour more water into the kitchen at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Leavelle of 1193 Erie St.

Firemen said the blaze originated in the kitchen and extended into the dining room. The kitchen was damaged extensively, while the walls and paint in the dining room were damaged by smoke and heat.

Firemen used two booster lines and laid a 1½-inch line from a hydrant to fight the blaze. The East End station and a squad from Central Station answered the alarm.

Leavelle was singed about the head when he ran through the flames. He apparently was outside and entered through the rear door into the kitchen.

One fireman fell while rounding a corner, but escaped injury. Firemen said the blaze may have been started when clothing hanging in the kitchen was ignited by the cooking stove.

While Chasing Speeder

Officer Escapes Unhurt In Collision Of Patrol Car

A 22-year-old State Highway Patrol officer escaped injury early today when his cruiser went out of control on a W. 3rd St. curve as he pursued a speeder — striking a utility pole and then veering diagonally across the street and hitting a parked auto.

Patrolman Norman L. Carroll Jr., who resides on Anderson Blvd., said he was pursuing a speeding pickup truck inbound on the California Hollow section of the Freeway and his cruiser went out of control on the stretch just east of the Newell Bridge where the four - lane highway gradually tapers to two lanes and joins with W. 3rd St.

The cruiser struck a utility pole on the south side of W. 3rd St., tearing out a ground wire, then veered diagonally across the street and struck a parked 1960 model convertible owned by Frances Cutwright of 414 Walnut St., East Liverpool police reported. Patrolman Paul C. Blevins of the local department investigated.

The crash was timed at 2:24 a. m. It caused heavy damage to both the front and rear of the patrol car — a 1965 sedan — and also caused extensive damage to the Cutwright auto, officers said.

The damaged utility pole sits on the south side of W. 3rd at the west line of Persimmon Alley, according to the police report. The Cutwright car was parked 129 feet east of the west line of Persimmon Alley.

The state patrol officer said he was pursuing a light - colored pickup truck carrying Ohio license plates.

Meanwhile, James E. Nottingham of 721 North St. told police the left rear fender and bumper of his parked 1965 sedan were scratched when it was struck by a backing auto about 8 p. m. Wednesday on Riverview St. The driver of the backing car left the scene, he reported.

'Dimes' Child Selected

A 2-year-old Industry boy has been chosen Beaver County's 1967 March of Dimes poster child.

Gerald Doyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Doyle of Meadowbrook, was born with an open spine — one of some 250,000 babies born annually with serious birth defects who are aided by the annual March of Dimes fund campaign this month.

Physicians are pleased with the improvement the boy has made recently. At first they told the Doyles he would be paralyzed from the waist down, but he can now stand with braces, and some day may possibly take steps without them.

Gerry has undergone four operations, the first when he was only two weeks old.

The second operation, one week later, provided for the insertion of a shunt, or tube, in the base of the brain to drain off spinal fluid into the circulatory system.

In addition the spinal disorder, Gerry was born with club feet. A third and fourth operation was performed last year to straighten his feet and lengthen his heel cords to avoid a malady known as "dropped feet." He still wears corrective shoes.

The Doyles have two other children, Maureen 4, and Danny, 3.

Doyle, 43, works as a tractor operator at Crucible Steel Co., Midland, while his wife takes care of the children. The financial burden of caring for Gerry has been offset somewhat with aid from the March of Dimes Foundation, but after suffering a couple of setbacks at the mill and with the expense of paying for a new home, the situation sometimes becomes a little tight.

The expense will not let up as Gerry gets older. He had been going to Children Hospital, Pittsburgh, for treatment but he may soon have to be enrolled for treatment at the Crippled Childrens Home in Squirrel Hill. New sets of braces will also be needed every two or three years.

When Gerry smiles, one can almost forget about the braces on his legs and that he may never be able to walk.

Nursing Guidance Test To Be Given At Lisbon

LISBON — The National League for Nursing's pre-nursing and guidance examination will be given in Columbiana County this year for the first time.

David Anderson High School at Lisbon is the NLN - approved test center for examinations Jan. 21 and Feb. 18.

The NLN selected as test supervisor Cornell P. Monda, Lisbon school psychologist and a member of the American Psychological Association and the American Personnel and Guidance Association. Monday also supervises the college entrance examination board tests which have been held in Lisbon the last eight years.

NLN examination scores assist schools of nursing in the selection and guidance of applicants seeking to become professional nurses.

EAST LIVERPOOL City Hospital has the only school of professional nursing in the county.

The nearest NLN examination centers previously were Canton, Youngstown and Pittsburgh. Accordingly, applicants from a wide area could be assigned to take the exam at Lisbon. Monda said he has not received word about the number of applicants to expect. The examination will be given morning and afternoon, with one hour for lunch.

Monda said Miss Ethlyn Exley, former director of East Liverpool City Hospital School of Nursing, was responsible for getting an NLN county test center. Miss Exley resigned last fall to become an instructor at Ball State Teachers College, Muncie, Ind.

Monda said he tried to set up the test in East Liverpool but was advised school board policy does not permit free use of buildings.

The NLN brochure of examination centers lists East Liverpool, but NLN has approved the change of sites on Monda's recommendation. He also received authority to change the first examination from Jan. 14 to Jan. 21 because the "college boards" examination will be given here the 14th.

EACH SCHOOL of nursing sets its own standards for evaluating applicants and NLN is not involved in this procedure, the brochure states.

Test results show how applicants score compared with other applicants who have taken the test. There are no passing or failing marks. Scores are forwarded to the nursing school designated by the applicant.

The brochure says schools of nursing consider other factors in addition to test scores in deciding which applicants to admit.

Monda said the NLN examination should not be confused with the examination given applicants for Hannah E. Mullins School of Practical Nursing at Salem City Hospital.

3 Lobstermen Facing Quiz On Shooting

MARATHON, Fla. (AP) — Federal agents held three lobster fishermen for questioning today after a gun battle on the high seas over rich lobster territory off Cuba.

A crewman was killed and a captain was injured in the battle in the Atlantic Wednesday.

The three men were whisked away by federal agents after a Coast Guard cutter brought them ashore.

They were identified as Raymond C. Vanyo of Key West, skipper of the Trojan, and two crewmen on the Trojan, Nevin Robert Fitz and George Broome. No charges were placed against them.

The incident, which occurred in the area of Dog Rocks near Cay Sal off the Cuba coast, was the latest outbreak among Florida's lobstermen who guard their traps carefully.

The dead crewman was identified by friends as Vernon Austin, of Marathon, the father of six.

Wounded was William A. Branthoover, 33, skipper of the 39-foot Bahama Mama. Branthoover was reported in fair condition in a Miami hospital. He said the shooting among the fishermen lasted about an hour.

Austin was on board the Billy J., sister boat of the Bahama Mama. Also aboard the Billy J was John Miller, Branthoover's father-in-law.

Feuds among lobster fishermen are not uncommon in Florida — mainly because the traps are easy prey to passing boats. Even weekend sailors can lift the traps and collect dozens of lobster in a few hours.

A good fisherman can make $15,000 to $20,000 a year in Florida's $12-million lobster business.

Big operators have been complaining to authorities that their traps are being attacked by what they call "cheapies" who secure license for a small legitimate operation but later clean out other traps.

Couple Hurt In Collision

A LaCroft couple was injured when its station wagon was hit in the rear on Route 267, a mile and eight-tenths north of the city limits Wednesday at 12:40 p. m.

An unidentified mail truck was stopped, partially off the road, when Mrs. Cronin halted behind it. Her car was then struck in the rear by Cook, officers reported. Cook was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Mrs. Cronin was admitted to City Hospital with a possible whiplash injury. She was in "fair" condition today.

Her husband, Homer Cronin, was treated for possible injuries of the pelvis and spine.

A semi-tractor trailer rig owned by Wilbur J. Hawthorn of 401 N. Beaver St., Lisbon, figured in a three-way collision Wednesday at 3:24 p. m. on Route 30, about 50 feet east of the Minerva city limits.

Easier Credit Seen Despite Tight Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — Money remains tight in many parts of the nation but signs of easier credit are mounting.

The first chink in the 6 per cent prime interest rate that banks charge their favored customers for loans came Wednesday when a relatively small Minnesota institution reduced its rate from 6 per cent to 5.75 per cent.

Isolated action by the National City Bank of Minneapolis surprised many bankers but it was hailed by the Treasury Department.

"The Treasury is heartened and pleased at this early movement in the direction of lower interest rates that the President advocated in the State of the Union message," the department said in response to an inquiry.

EL Continues Home Stand

The East Liverpool Potters, in the midst of a 10-game home stand, will attempt to get to the plus side of their season record this weekend when Steubenville Big Red and Youngstown South invade Memorial Auditorium.

Coach Clint McConnell's team has recorded a 4-4 mark so far and has won two of three games on the current home stand. The Potters won't go on the road again until Feb. 10 at Martins Ferry.

BOTH games this weekend can be rated tossups since Big Red has tasted defeat four times while winning two and South sports a 4-3 record.

Last weekend the Potters split a pair on the MA floor losing to Columbus East, Ohio's No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll but cameback the following night to defeat a young Youngstown East team.

Big Red, a Big 8 conference foe, appears here Friday night and will be led by Don Osby, a high jumping 6-1 junior. As a sophomore Osby was the team's leading scorer and one of the top rebounders.

THIS SEASON he leads Big Red in scoring and rebounding and his best effort scoring wise was a 33-point game against Toronto. Osby also is the state broad jumping champion.

Other starters for Coach Walt Owens' team are Art O'Mery, a 6-2 senior, who had his finest night last week with 27 points against Steubenville Central, Glenn Hardney, 5-10 senior, Jim Smith, 6-foot junior and Dan Spahn, 5-10 senior.

BIG RED'S only victories were over a good Toronto team, 65-61, and Steubenville Central, 74-50.

Steubenville hasn't won on the road so far this season. Losses have been to Canton Lincoln, 66-49, Marietta, 75-59, Martins Ferry, 54-53 and Alliance 66-62.

East Liverpool also will be seeking its first vicotry in the Big 8 Conference. The Potters have lost both starts so far to Warren and Alliance.

YOUNGSTOWN South has met some strong opposition so far this season and lost. The Warriors were defeated 87-56 by highly regarded Cuyahoga Falls but lost to Western Pennsylvania powerhouse Sharon, by a mere 54-53 margin, and last week dropped a 50-39 contest to Youngstown North.

In the game with North, the Warriors ran into some bad luck when Otis Dancey, a 6-4 sophomore regular, suffered a broken collarbone in the first quarter of the contest and will be out for the remainder of the season.

YOUNGSTOWN South owns victories over Warren Western Reserve, Girard, Woodrow Wilson and Ursuline. South defeated Ursuline, 61-52, while the Potters stopped Ursuline, 57-52.

Starting for South will be four lettermen including Tony Boatwright, a 6-4 senior, Julius Livas, 5-10 junior, Fred Cooper 6-2 junior and Marv McWilson 6-foot junior. The fifth starter probably will be Ray Griffen a 6-4 junior or Earl Gibbs 5-11 senior.

Boatwright and Livas have been the leading point producers so far this season.

Dawson 'Sizes' Up Packers And Players In AFL

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Kansas City quarterback Len Dawson took apart the Green Bay defense today without throwing a pass—and found that in Sunday's Super Bowl game he'll be firing against the equivalent of Boston's front four, Buffalo's linebackers and Oakland's secondary.

Ticking off attributes and personality of Green Bay's defensive forces, Dawson drew a comparison with the units of three American Football League teams.

"The Packers front four are extremely quick, like Boston's," Dawson said, "and like Boston they're a veteran group which plays extremely well together."

"The Green Bay linebackers are like Buffalo's," Dawson went on, "big, strong, fast, and they tackle very well. The ball carrier doesn't fake them out. They're tough, they hit, they jam the tight end."

That comparison set Green Bay's linebackers—245 - pound Dave Robinson, 240-pound Ray Nitschke and 250-pound Lee Roy Caffey against the Bills' trio of 240-pound Mike Stratton, 225-pound Harry Jacobs and 225 pound John Tracey.

"The Green Bay defensive backs are most like Oakland's," Dawson said as he completed his breakdown. "They're real solid at the corners and they all react very well."

Green Bay's cornerbacks are Herb Adderley and Bob Jeter, Oakland's Kent McCloughan and Dave Grayson. The Packer safeties are Willie Wood and Tom Brown, the Raiders' Rodger Bird and Warren Powers.

Having completed his breaking down of the Green Bay defense into the three components, Dawson then put it back together again and said:

"There's no doubt they're going to present a problem. They pressure you extremely well, and like Boston they have a lot of second effort. If you knock them down, you've got to lay on them—or they'll get back into the play.

"But," Dawson added, "that doesn't mean they present a problem we can't overcome.

"We have the tools. The reason why we have been successful is that we haven't had to rely on one guy. If they double on Otis Taylor, we'll go somewhere else. If they stop Mike Garrett, we'll go to Curt McClinton, or Chris Burford or Fred Arbanas.

"If they go somewhere to stop something—they've got to be vulnerable somewhere else.

"That's my job — finding where."

THE DETROIT LIONS new head football coach, Joe Schmidt, Wednesday announced he had agreed to accept the coaching position with the Lions. Schmidt succeeds Harry Gilmer. (UPI Telephoto)

Schmidt Accepts Post With Lions

DETROIT (AP) — Joe Schmidt, the new coach of the Detroit Lions, says he'll try to start the club back to National Football League power with a number of trades and a massive injection of pride.

"I definitely feel we have to make some trades," he said after signing Wednesday. "I have a free hand. I can do anything in the line of trades. Naturally," he added "I won't go off half cocked. I'll confer with General Manager Russ Thomas and owner William Clay Ford before I do anything.

"At one time," Schmidt said, "this team had a lot of pride. I intend to reinstill that pride in this team."

Schmidt said that a team with a lot of pride plays better and pulls together better.

Schmidt, 34, was a linebacker for 13 years for the Lions. He joined them as a seventh draft choice from the University of Pittsburgh in 1953. He was named to the Pro Bowl squad 10 times during his 13 seasons, captained the Lions nine straight years, was voted to the NFL All-Pro team on eight occasions and was named the Lions' most valuable player four times.

He retired after the 1965 season and served last season as an assistant coach, working with the linebackers.

Schmidt replaces Harry Gilmer, fired last week after two losing seasons, the latest a 4-9-1 mark.

Schmidt signed a five-year contract Wednesday, reportedly for something in the neighborhood of $50,000 a year.

He said he will take his time about picking assistants and will seek the best possible. He said some of Gilmer's staff would be considered.

First Super Bowl Game Far From Being Sellout

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Kansas City and Green Bay will both show up for Sunday's Super Bowl game, but the anticipated sellout crowd probably will not.

"I thought we would have a sellout and we might still have it," said Commissioner Pete Rozelle Wednesday. "But it would be hard to get a sellout at this point."

Rozelle said that some 55,000 to 60,000 seats have been sold for the game, leaving more than 30,000 seats to go in order to fill the 93,000-seat Los Angeles Coliseum.

Rozelle pointed to the blackout backlash — the game will not be televised in the Los Angeles area and a suit was brought to force the lifting of the blackout—and the price scale of $6, $10 and $12 as two of the factors cutting into the sale of tickets.

Rozelle also revealed that the Super Bowl winner would meet the College All-Stars in Chicago in August and announced record attendance figures for both the NFL and AFL.

NFL attendance rose to 5,337,138 compared to 4,624,021 in 1965 while AFL attendance climbed from 1,782,384 to 2,160,369.

Perry Signs Giants Contract For $40,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Right-hander Gaylord Perry, a 21-8 performer with the San Francisco Giants in 1966 with his best season, has signed a 1967 contract at an estimated $40,000.

Perry, the first pitcher to win 20 games last season, earned a raise of about $10,000. The Giants boosted his pay last season when he posted his 20th victory Aug. 20.

Only three major league hurlers won more games in 1966 than Gaylord, lanky 28-year-old North Carolinian who winters at Williamston. They were Sandy Koufax with 27, and the Giants' Juan Marichal and the Minnesota Twins' Jim Kaat with 25 each.

Top Ranked In Small College

S. Illinois Scores Upset Over No. 2 Louisville U.

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southern Illinois is not considered a major college basketball power. Convince Texas Western and Louisville.

The Salukis from Carbondale, Ill., 59-54 conquerors of Texas Western, the defending major college champion, upended previously unbeaten Louisville 53-50 Wednesday night.

Southern Illinois has a higher national ranking than either Texas Western or Louisville, but there is a difference — the Salukis top The Associated Press small college rankings while Louisville is No. 2 and Texas Western sixth among the major schools.

As for rankings, Coach Jack Hartman of Southern Illinois said after the latest victory, "They don't put anything on the scoreboard."

Well, they do put the score on it, and because Walt Frazier made five foul shots in the last 66 seconds, Wednesday night it was the right kind of score for the eighth time in 10 games this season for the Salukis. Their only losses have been to Southern Methodist 66-64 and to Louisville 70-66 in overtime.

The only other member of the major college Top Ten to see action Wednesday night was North Carolina, and the Tar Heels came from eight points behind in the second half to nip North Carolina State 79-78 for their 12th victory in 13 games.

Bob Lewis led North Carolina with 25 points, and Rusty Clark and Larry Miller chipped in with 20 and 16, respectively. Dick Braucher's 24 led State.

A brief fight broke out just after the final buzzer at Chapel Hill when fan exchanged blows with State's Robert McLean. Order was restored quickly.

In the game at Carbondale, Southern Illinois built up a 27-16 lead in the first half only to see Louisville cut the margin to 29-26 at intermission. With 4:35 left in the game, Southern Illinois led 46-44, then after the two teams exchanged baskets, Frazier wrapped it up with his free throws.

Sophomore Dick Garrett scored 18 points and Frazier 16 for Southern Illinois. Westley Unseld led Louisville, now 13-1, with 23, and Butch Beard added 17.

"There's no doubt they're going to present a problem. They pressure you extremely well, and like Boston they have a lot of second effort. If you knock them down, you've got to lay on them—or they'll get back into the play.

"But," Dawson added, "that doesn't mean they present a problem we can't overcome.

"We have the tools. The reason why we have been successful is that we haven't had to rely on one guy. If they double on Otis Taylor, we'll go somewhere else. If they stop Mike Garrett, we'll go to Curt McClinton, or Chris Burford or Fred Arbanas.

"If they go somewhere to stop something—they've got to be vulnerable somewhere else.

"That's my job — finding where."

THE DETROIT LIONS new head football coach, Joe Schmidt, Wednesday announced he had agreed to accept the coaching position with the Lions. Schmidt succeeds Harry Gilmer. (UPI Telephoto)

Schmidt Accepts Post With Lions

DETROIT (AP) — Joe Schmidt, the new coach of the Detroit Lions, says he'll try to start the club back to National Football League power with a number of trades and a massive injection of pride.

"I definitely feel we have to make some trades," he said after signing Wednesday. "I have a free hand. I can do anything in the line of trades. Naturally," he added. "I won't go off half cocked. I'll confer with General Manager Russ Thomas and owner William Clay Ford before I do anything.

"At one time," Schmidt said, "this team had a lot of pride. I intend to reinstill that pride in this team."

Schmidt said that a team with a lot of pride plays better and pulls together better.

Schmidt, 34, was a linebacker for 13 years for the Lions. He joined them as a seventh draft choice from the University of Pittsburgh in 1953. He was named to the Pro Bowl squad 10 times during his 13 seasons, captained the Lions nine straight years, was voted to the NFL All-Pro team on eight occasions and was named the Lions' most valuable player four times.

He retired after the 1965 season and served last season as an assistant coach, working with the linebackers.

Schmidt replaces Harry Gilmer, fired last week after two losing seasons, the latest a 4-9-1 mark.

Schmidt signed a five-year contract Wednesday, reportedly for something in the neighborhood of $50,000 a year.

He said he will take his time about picking assistants and will seek the best possible. He said some of Gilmer's staff would be considered.

First Super Bowl Game Far From Being Sellout

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Kansas City and Green Bay will both show up for Sunday's Super Bowl game, but the anticipated sellout crowd probably will not.

"I thought we would have a sellout and we might still have it," said Commissioner Pete Rozelle Wednesday. "But it would be hard to get a sellout at this point."

Rozelle said that some 55,000 to 60,000 seats have been sold for the game, leaving more than 30,000 seats to go in order to fill the 93,000-seat Los Angeles Coliseum.

Rozelle pointed to the blackout backlash — the game will not be televised in the Los Angeles area and a suit was brought to force the lifting of the blackout--and the price scale of $6, $10 and $12 as two of the factors cutting into the sale of tickets.

Rozelle also revealed that the Super Bowl winner would meet the College All-Stars in Chicago in August and announced record attendance figures for both the NFL and AFL.

NFL attendance rose to 5,337,138 compared to 4,624,021 in 1965 while AFL attendance climbed from 1,782,384 to 2,160,369.

Perry Signs Giants Contract For $40,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Right-hander Gaylord Perry, a 21-8 performer with the San Francisco Giants in 1966 with his best season, has signed a 1967 contract at an estimated $40,000.

Perry, the first pitcher to win 20 games last season, earned a raise of about $10,000. The Giants boosted his pay last season when he posted his 20th victory Aug. 20.

Only three major league hurlers won more games in 1966 than Gaylord, lanky 28-year-old North Carolinian who winters at Williamston. They were Sandy Koufax with 27, and the Giants' Juan Marichal and the Minnesota Twins' Jim Kaat with 25 each.

S. Illinois Scores Upset Over No. 2 Louisville U.

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southern Illinois is not considered a major college basketball power. Convince Texas Western and Louisville.

The Salukis from Carbondale, Ill., 59-54 conquerors of Texas Western, the defending major college champion, upended previously unbeaten Louisville 53-50 Wednesday night.

Southern Illinois has a higher national ranking than either Texas Western or Louisville, but there is a difference — the Salukis top The Associated Press small college rankings while Louisville is No. 2 and Texas Western sixth among the major schools.

As for rankings, Coach Jack Hartman of Southern Illinois said after the latest victory, "They don't put anything on the scoreboard."

Well, they do put the score on it, and because Walt Frazier made five foul shots in the last 66 seconds, Wednesday night it was the right kind of score for the eighth time in 10 games this season for the Salukis. Their only losses have been to Southern Methodist 66-64 and to Louisville 70-66 in overtime.

The only other member of the major college Top Ten to see action Wednesday night was North Carolina, and the Tar Heels came from eight points behind in the second half to nip North Carolina State 79-78 for their 12th victory in 13 games.

Bob Lewis led North Carolina with 25 points, and Rusty Clark and Larry Miller chipped in with 20 and 16, respectively. Dick Braucher's 24 led State.

A brief fight broke out just after the final buzzer at Chapel Hill when fan exchanged blows with State's Robert McLean. Order was restored quickly.

In the game at Carbondale, Southern Illinois built up a 27-16 lead in the first half only to see Louisville cut the margin to 29-26 at intermission. With 4:35 left in the game, Southern Illinois led 46-44, then after the two teams exchanged baskets, Frazier wrapped it up with his free throws.

Sophomore Dick Garrett scored 18 points and Frazier 16 for Southern Illinois. Westley Unseld led Louisville, now 13-1, with 23, and Butch Beard added 17.

Eastern Schools Stopped Over 1.6 Academic Rule

By JACK DONOVAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The new president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association said today he felt the NCAA and Eastern objectors to the 1.6 minimum academic rule could reach an understanding.

The large collegiate body rebuffed Eastern college efforts Wednesday to eliminate the one-year-old rule which requires a student-athlete to maintain at least a 1.6 minimum on a 4.0 grading scale to be eligible for athletic participation. A 1.6 is the equivalent to a D-plus average.

Dr. Marcus L. Plant of the University of Michigan said after his election as president of the 582-member organization that the NCAA is strong internally and with "no deep fissures."

"We are not without our problems," he said. "We never have been and we never will be."

Although the Eastern College Athletic Conference, comprising 146 NCAA members, got late convention support from the Southwest Conference and the Atlantic Coast Conference, it was unsuccessful in securing approval of any of six amendments designed to alter the present 1.6 regulation.

The objecting schools contend the rule violates institutional autonomy and is not applicable in their case because they do not have student-athletes.

John Wilkin of Colby College, in presenting the ECAC case, said the academic rule "tries to equate factors that are not equatable." At the request of a delegate to have a public statement on how the NCAA Council stood on the 1.6 issue, Everett D. Barnes of Colgate University, retiring NCAA president, said it was for retention of the present rule.

"The general conviction on the part of the majority is to give the 1.6 rule a chance to function another year," Plant said. He added that coming from the Big Ten Conference, which has a higher minimum standard, he favors it.

The 1968 convention will be in New York City Jan. 8-10.

Walter J. Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said 520 of the organization's 582 members are in conformity with the 1.6 rule.

He said 11 institutions indicated no intention of complying, including only three members of the eight-school Ivy League—Yale, Harvard and Pennsylvania.

Byers identified the other eight institutions as Williams, Thiel, Tufts, Swarthmore, Rochester, Oberlin, Johns Hopkins and Muhlenberg.

"There is no stigma on a team for non-compliance with NCAA regulations," Byers said. It means only they cannot compete in an NCAA championship event or postseason bowl game sanctioned by the collegiate body.

In other action at the closing session of the 61st convention, the delegates:

Rejected a proposal to permit freshmen to compete in all varsity sports except football and basketball.

Approved exempting benefits under the GI Bill of Rights from grants-in-aid to student-athletes.

Voted down a move to limit scholarships to one or two years, with renewals. Grants-in-aid now may be given for four years.

Tabled a motion to extend the period of preseason football practice.

W. Virginia Edged 82-81 By Maryland

MORGANTOWN (AP) — In the last 16 basketball games West Virginia University has played at home, it has only lost twice. Both times it was to Maryland.

Wednesday night the Terrapins did in WVU, 82-81, in overtime.

The loss was the third straight for the Mountaineers and their second consecutive overtime defeat. Their record is now 6-4 for the year.

West Virginia fought from behind to take a 74-70 lead late in the game, only to have Maryland's Pete Johnson tie the score on two baskets to send the game into overtime.

In improving its record to 8-3 Maryland took a 78-76 lead in the extra session on Gary Williams' layup with 1:40 remaining, and was never headed.

The near-victory climaxed a climb back from an eight-point deficit for the Mountaineers as they finally tied the score at 55-55 with 9:38 left in the game. The score was tied seven times in the last nine minutes of the game.

WVU was paced by Ron Williams who scored 26 points while Carl Head added 23 and Dave Reaser 16.

Billy Jones took the honors for Maryland with 23 points, aided by Jay McMillen with 17 points.

WVU returns to action Monday night in a Southern Conference encounter with Virginia Military in Charleston.

In a preliminary game Wednesday night, Bob Hummell, the former Moundsville star, scored 45 points in leading the WVU frsehmen team to an 83-76 victory over the Maryland frosh.

The victory was the fifth straight for the Little Mountaineers, while the loss was the first in six games for the Terrapin yearlings.

Top 2 Small School Fives Meet Monday

By The Associated Press

The Super Bowl football game is the big event coming up on the nation's sports schedule to almost everyone except possibly the basketball-minded folks of Owensboro, Ky., and Carbondale, Ill.

That's because next Monday night in Owensboro, Southern Illinois of Carbondale and Kentucky Wesleyan, the No. 1 and No. 2 teams in The Associated Press' small-college basketball poll, meet for the first time this season.

Southern Illinois took over first place from the Panthers in the latest poll. The Salukis, though, lead by only two points.

In the balloting by a national panel of 19 sports writers and broadcasters, Southern Illinois collected 171 points and Kentucky Wesleyan 169 on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second, etc. The Salukis were named the top team on nine ballots and the Panthers on seven.

Southern Illinois beat Indiana State in its only game last week for a 6-2 mark while Kentucky Wesleyan, unbeaten in eight games, downed Evansville and Tennessee State.

There were no changes in the next three positions with Cheyney State occupying third place followed by Akron and Grambling.

Pan American, which won of its games last week, advanced three places to sixth. Indiana State, San Diego State, Tennessee State and Lincoln of Jefferson City, Mo., complete the Top Ten in that order.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points:

1.	Southern Ill. (9)	171

Koufax Wins Hutch Award

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Los Angeles Dodger pitching great Sandy Koufax, who announced his retirement from baseball last November is the winner of the 1966 Hutch Award.

The award is given by major league baseball writers and broadcasters in memory of the late Fred Hutchinson, major league pitcher and manager of the Detroit Tigers, St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds.

Koufax will receive the trophy at the annual dinner of the New York chapter of Baseball Writers of America on Jan. 29 in New York.

NBA Selects San Diego As Newest Club

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The National Basketball Association has added San Diego to its roster, raising to 12 its entries for the 1967-68 season.

NBA Commissioner J. Walter Kennedy announced Wednesday that San Diego was granted a franchise, joining Seattle as a new team for next season.

Kennedy said the team is owned by San Diego Sports Enterprises, which operates the new San Diego International Sports Arena and owns the San Diego Gulls of the Western Hockey League.

Robert Breitbard, president of Sports Enterprises, will also head the new NBA club, which will play in the International Sports Arena.

The corporation payed $1,750,000 for the new franchise, approved Tuesday in San Francisco, Kennedy said.

The team will obtain its players in a draft from the present NBA rosters. Each of the 10 existing teams will give up three players, with San Diego and Seattle filling 15-man squads.

Southern Local Teams Win Two

Southern Local teams swept two games Tuesday from Springfield Local on the Southern court.

The eighth grade team scored a 68-40 victory with Marty Adams scoring 16 points while Jim Needham and Fred Parsons had 10 each.

In a seventh grade game, Southern won 28-22 with Jim Randolph's 11 points leading the way.

Fewer Spectators, Higher Prices Rule For Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Fewer spectators and higher prices will be the rule for the prestige-laden Masters Golf Tournament in 1967.

The Augusta National Golf Club says the number of admission credentials will be cut sharply and that series badges, good for the four rounds in the 72-hole event on April 6-9, will be limited to patrons — persons on the club's mailing list.

Chairman Clifford Roberts of the Masters Tournament Committee said the price of series badges will be raised from $15 to $20. He said the badges will not cover practice rounds.

No tickets will be available to the general public for the tournament, the club said, unless patrons fail to fill the spectator quota, which was not disclosed.

The possibility that patrons will fail to exhaust the supply is unlikely. Augusta National reported that 90 per cent of the patrons requested series badges last year and closed out the supply a month before the tournament began.

Roberts said if the quota is not filled a certain number of daily admission tickets will be sold to the general public.

Meanwhile, in a separate announcement, the club said it is partially lifting the 225-mile television blackout of the final two days of the Masters by allowing a Columbus, Ga., station to carry the action.

Roberts said the viewing at Columbus, nearly 200 miles from Augusta, will be an experiment to determine if ticket sales would be hurt. He said if the club determines that admissions are not bothered by television, the viewing blackout may be completely or partially lifted.

The tournament, considered one of the world's great golfing events, annually draws the top national and international amateurs and professionals on an invitation basis.

Eastern Schools Stopped Over 1.6 Academic Rule

By JACK DONOVAN

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The new president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association said today he felt the NCAA and Eastern objectors to the 1.6 minimum academic rule could reach an understanding.

The large collegiate body rebuffed Eastern college efforts Wednesday to eliminate the one-year-old rule which requires a student-athlete to maintain at least a 1.6 minimum on a 4.0 grading scale to be eligible for athletic participation. A 1.6 is the equivalent to a D-plus average.

Dr. Marcus L. Plant of the University of Michigan said after his election as president of the 582-member organization that the NCAA is strong internally and with "no deep fissures."

"We are not without our problems," he said. "We never have been and we never will be."

Although the Eastern College Athletic Conference, comprising 146 NCAA members, got late convention support from the Southwest Conference and the Atlantic Coast Conference, it was unsuccessful in securing approval of any of six amendments designed to alter the present 1.6 regulation.

The objecting schools contend the rule violates institutional autonomy and is not applicable in their case because they do not have student-athletes.

John Wilkin of Colby College, in presenting the ECAC case, said the academic rule "tries to equate factors that are not equatable." At the request of a delegate to have a public statement on how the NCAA Council stood on the 1.6 issue, Everett D. Barnes of Colgate University, retiring NCAA president, said it was for retention of the present rule.

"The general conviction on the part of the majority is to give the 1.6 rule a chance to function another year," Plant said. He added that coming from the Big Ten Conference, which has a higher minimum standard, he favors it.

The 1968 convention will be in New York City Jan. 8-10.

Walter J. Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said 520 of the organization's 582 members are in conformity with the 1.6 rule.

He said 11 institutions indicated no intention of complying, including only three members of the eight-school Ivy League—Yale, Harvard and Pennsylvania.

Byers identified the other eight institutions as Williams, Thiel, Tufts, Swarthmore, Rochester, Oberlin, Johns Hopkins and Muhlenberg.

"There is no stigma on a team for non-compliance with NCAA regulations," Byers said. It means only they cannot compete in an NCAA championship event or postseason bowl game sanctioned by the collegiate body.

In other action at the closing session of the 61st convention, the delegates:

Rejected a proposal to permit freshmen to compete in all varsity sports except football and basketball.

Approved exempting benefits under the GI Bill of Rights from grants-in-aid to student-athletes.

Voted down a move to limit scholarships to one or two years, with renewals. Grants-in-aid now may be given for four years.

Tabled a motion to extend the period of preseason football practice.

W. Virginia Edged 82-81 By Maryland

MORGANTOWN (AP) — In the last 16 basketball games West Virginia University has played at home, it has only lost twice. Both times it was to Maryland.

Wednesday night the Terrapins did in WVU, 82-81, in overtime.

The loss was the third straight for the Mountaineers and their second consecutive overtime defeat. Their record is now 6-4 for the year.

West Virginia fought from behind to take a 74-70 lead late in the game, only to have Maryland's Pete Johnson tie the score on two baskets to send the game into overtime.

In improving its record to 8-3, Maryland took a 78-76 lead in the extra session on Gary Williams' layup with 1:40 remaining, and was never headed.

The near-victory climaxed a climb back from an eight-point deficit for the Mountaineers as they finally tied the score at 55-55 with 9:38 left in the game. The score was tied seven times in the last nine minutes of the game.

WVU was paced by Ron Williams who scored 26 points while Carl Head added 23 and Dave Reaser 16.

Billy Jones took the honors for Maryland with 23 points, aided by Jay McMillen with 17 points.

WVU returns to action Monday night in a Southern Conference encounter with Virginia Military in Charleston.

In a preliminary game Wednesday night, Bob Hummell, the former Moundsville star, scored 45 points in leading the WVU frsehmen team to an 83-76 victory over the Maryland frosh.

The victory was the fifth straight for the Little Mountaineers, while the loss was the first in six games for the Terrapin yearlings.

Top 2 Small School Fives Meet Monday

By The Associated Press

The Super Bowl football game is the big event coming up on the nation's sports schedule to almost everyone except possibly the basketball-minded folks of Owensboro, Ky., and Carbondale, Ill.

That's because next Monday night in Owensboro, Southern Illinois of Carbondale and Kentucky Wesleyan, the No. 1 and No. 2 teams in The Associated Press' small-college basketball poll, meet for the first time this season.

Southern Illinois took over first place from the Panthers in the latest poll. The Salukis, though, lead by only two points.

In the balloting by a national panel of 19 sports writers and broadcasters, Southern Illinois collected 171 points and Kentucky Wesleyan 169 on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second, etc. The Salukis were named the top team on nine ballots and the Panthers on seven.

Southern Illinois beat Indiana State in its only game last week for a 6-2 mark while Kentucky Wesleyan, unbeaten in eight games, downed Evansville and Tennessee State.

There were no changes in the next three positions with Cheyney State occupying third place followed by Akron and Grambling.

Pan American, which won of its games last week, advanced three places to sixth. Indiana State, San Diego State, Tennessee State and Lincoln of Jefferson City, Mo., complete the Top Ten in that order.

Koufax Wins Hutch Award

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Los Angeles Dodger pitching great Sandy Koufax, who announced his retirement from baseball last November is the winner of the 1966 Hutch Award.

The award is given by major league baseball writers and broadcasters in memory of the late Fred Hutchinson, major league pitcher and manager of the Detroit Tigers, St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds.

The Hutch Award goes to the major leaguer who "best exemplifies the fighting spirit and burning desire of the late Fred Hutchinson."

Koufax will receive the trophy at the annual dinner of the New York chapter of Baseball Writers of America on Jan. 29 in New York.

NBA Selects San Diego As Newest Club

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The National Basketball Association has added San Diego to its roster, raising to 12 its entries for the 1967-68 season.

NBA Commissioner J. Walter Kennedy announced Wednesday that San Diego was granted a franchise, joining Seattle as a new team for next season.

Kennedy said the team is owned by San Diego Sports Enterprises, which operates the new San Diego International Sports Arena and owns the San Diego Gulls of the Western Hockey League.

Robert Breitbard, president of Sports Enterprises, will also head the new NBA club, which will play in the International Sports Arena.

The corporation payed $1,750,000 for the new franchise, approved Tuesday in San Francisco, Kennedy said.

The team will obtain its players in a draft from the present NBA rosters. Each of the 10 existing teams will give up three players, with San Diego and Seattle filling 15-man squads.

Southern Local Teams Win Two

Southern Local teams swept two games Tuesday from Springfield Local on the Southern court.

The eighth grade team scored a 68-40 victory with Marty Adams scoring 16 points while Jim Needham and Fred Parsons had 10 each.

In a seventh grade game, Southern won 28-22 with Jim Randolph's 11 points leading the way.

Fewer Spectators, Higher Prices Rule For Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Fewer spectators and higher prices will be the rule for the prestige-laden Masters Golf Tournament in 1967.

The Augusta National Golf Club says the number of admission credentials will be cut sharply and that series badges, good for the four rounds in the 72-hole event on April 6-9, will be limited to patrons — persons on the club's mailing list.

Chairman Clifford Roberts of the Masters Tournament Committee said the price of series badges will be raised from $15 to $20. He said the badges will not cover practice rounds.

No tickets will be available to the general public for the tournament, the club said, unless patrons fail to fill the spectator quota, which was not disclosed.

The possibility that patrons will fail to exhaust the supply is unlikely. Augusta National reported that 90 per cent of the patrons requested series badges last year and closed out the supply a month before the tournament began.

Roberts said if the quota is not filled a certain number of daily admission tickets will be sold to the general public.

Meanwhile, in a separate announcement, the club said it is partially lifting the 225-mile television blackout of the final two days of the Masters by allowing a Columbus, Ga., station to carry the action.

Roberts said the viewing at Columbus, nearly 200 miles from Augusta, will be an experiment to determine if ticket sales would be hurt. He said if the club determines that admissions are not bothered by television, the viewing blackout may be completely or partially lifted.

The tournament, considered one of the world's great golfing events, annually draws the top national and international amateurs and professionals on an invitation basis.

Hinges On 1871 Law

High Court Eyes Question Crucial To Rights Cases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Before the end of the term the Supreme Court will decide a novel question of paramount importance to civil rights marchers and administrators of justice.

It is: May judges and policemen be sued for damages under an 1871 civil rights law?

If they are ruled immune from such suits, civil rights demonstrators will be barred from using the Reconstruction statute to sue for false arrest and conviction.

But if they are not immune, the door could swing wide open for such suits — a prospect which appeared to deeply concern at least three of the nine Supreme Court justices who heard arguments on the matter Wednesday.

The case at hand involves four Episcopal ministers, one of them a former son-in-law of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who were arrested in a Jackson, Miss., bus depot in September 1961.

The ministers were part of a racially mixed group of Episcopal clergymen on a civil rights "prayer pilgrimage" from New Orleans to Detroit. Three are white and the fourth Negro.

Their trip up the Mississippi Valley was cut short when they tried to eat in a coffee shop in the depot.

According to their attorney, Carl Rachlin of New York City, they entered the depot peacefully and were arrested to enforce segregation. The stanchion outside the depot, Rachlin said, read: "Whites only, by order of police."

But according to attorney Elizabeth Watkins Hulen Grayson of Jackson — representing the three arresting police officers and the local police justice, the ministers "broadcast the fact they came to be arrested." They attracted a crowd of 30 to 40 persons, Mrs. Grayson said, some of whom muttered, made violent gestures and "had angry expressions" on their face.

Local Police Justice James L. Spencer found the four — the Rev. Robert L. Pierson, then married to Rockefeller's daughter Ann, the Rev. John B. Morris, the Rev. James G. Jones Jr. and the Rev. James P. Breeden, a Negro, guilty of violating Mississippi's breach-of-peace law and sent them off to jail.

Later, Hinds County Court struck down Father Jones' conviction and officials decided not to press charges against the three others.

The clergymen then turned around and sued the three arresting officers and Spencer for damages under the 1871 civil rights law, seeking $11,000 each.

The law makes "every person" who acts "under color" of state law to deprive a citizen of his rights "liable to the party injured." Punishment under the law is up to 10 years in prison, $5,000 fine or both.

Back in 1951, the Supreme Court ruled 8 to 1 that the Reconstruction law was not intended to limit state legislators' immunity from arrests or suits based on their official actions.

Taking its cue from this decision, five federal circuit courts, including the Fifth in New Orleans in the ministers' case, have held state and local judges are similarly immune.

Now the high court will have to say if that was its intention in 1951.

Accord Averts Strike At Cleveland Schools

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland School Board and custodians union agreed on wages and other issues shortly after midnight, averting a threatened strike that would have closed 180 public schools today.

The custodians who also number 180, are not janitors. They operate boilers and heating units, and if they had struck, school buildings would have been without heat.

They are members of Local 777, International Brotherhood of Firemen and Oilers, AFL-CIO. Originally, they had set a strike deadline of midnight Tuesday, but postponed the walkout for 24 hours while talks continued.

The school board still faces a strike threat over wages from another AFL-CIO group, the 3,000 members of the Cleveland Teachers Union.

The teachers union will meet Monday night to take a strike vote. Their strike deadline is next Thursday.

The chief issue behind the custodians' threatened strike was pay, and union negotiators accepted an agreement that will provide salaries ranging from a minimum of about $7,790 to a maximum of $10,000.

The settlement also provides for establishment of grievance procedures, regular meetings between union officials and school administrators, and one additional week's vacation.

School Supt. Paul W. Briggs announced the settlement which does not have to be voted on by the union membership.

Ohio's Supreme Court Will Air Apportion Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The way was cleared today for an Ohio Supreme Court hearing Feb. 7 on validity of Ohio's legislative apportionment system.

Attorneys for Ohio Senate Minority Leader Frank W. King D-11 Toledo, Lucas, filed their answer brief Thursday in the appeal from a 10th District Court of Appeals decision holding invalid the single-member district plan under which state legislators were elected last year.

The answer charged "the will of the people, as expressed in the Ohio Constitution, has been thwarted and foiled" by the apportionment plan adopted by a Republican - controlled Apportionment Board in September 1965.

A special three-judge federal court held the plan valid under the federal constitution and ordered it used in 1966 as a temporary measure. King's suit challenged the plan under the Ohio Constitution.

The Appellate Court held the plan invalid under the Ohio Constitution, declaring the Apportionment Board's action was illegal, that it could meet only once every 10 years following a federal census. It had apportioned the state in 1961 under a system held unconstitutional by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Only President Johnson wasn't there Wednesday night — and that wasn't for a lack of trying.

Dirksen told newsmen he telephoned the White House and said: "Tell the President to come at 9 o'clock — that's an order."

Later there was a call from the White House and Dirksen returned to explain that Johnson "had some people there and couldn't get away."

Hinges On 1871 Law

High Court Eyes Question Crucial To Rights Cases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Before the end of the term the Supreme Court will decide a novel question of paramount importance to civil rights marchers and administrators of justice.

It is: May judges and policemen be sued for damages under an 1871 civil rights law?

If they are ruled immune from such suits, civil rights demonstrators will be barred from using the Reconstruction statute to sue for false arrest and conviction.

But if they are not immune, the door could swing wide open for such suits — a prospect which appeared to deeply concern at least three of the nine Supreme Court justices who heard arguments on the matter Wednesday.

The case at hand involves four Episcopal ministers, one of them a former son-in-law of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who were arrested in a Jackson, Miss., bus depot in September 1961.

The ministers were part of a racially mixed group of Episcopal clergymen on a civil rights "prayer pilgrimage" from New Orleans to Detroit. Three are white and the fourth Negro.

Their trip up the Mississippi Valley was cut short when they tried to eat in a coffee shop in the depot.

According to their attorney, Carl Rachlin of New York City, they entered the depot peacefully and were arrested to enforce segregation. The stanchion outside the depot, Rachlin said, read: "Whites only, by order of police."

But according to attorney Elizabeth Watkins Hulen Grayson of Jackson — representing the three arresting police officers and the local police justice, the ministers "broadcast the fact they came to be arrested." They attracted a crowd of 30 to 40 persons, Mrs. Grayson said, some of whom muttered, made violent gestures and "had angry expressions" on their face.

Local Police Justice James L. Spencer found the four — the Rev. Robert L. Pierson, then married to Rockefeller's daughter Ann, the Rev. John B. Morris, the Rev. James G. Jones Jr. and the Rev. James P. Breeden, a Negro, guilty of violating Mississippi's breach-of-peace law and sent them off to jail.

Later, Hinds County Court struck down Father Jones' conviction and officials decided not to press charges against the three others.

The clergymen then turned around and sued the three arresting officers and Spencer for damages under the 1871 civil rights law, seeking $11,000 each.

The law makes "every person" who acts "under color" of state law to deprive a citizen of his rights "liable to the party injured." Punishment under the law is up to 10 years in prison, $5,000 fine or both.

Back in 1951, the Supreme Court ruled 8 to 1 that the Reconstruction law was not intended to limit state legislators' immunity from arrests or suits based on their official actions.

Taking its cue from this decision, five federal circuit courts, including the Fifth in New Orleans in the ministers' case, have held state and local judges are similarly immune.

Now the high court will have to say if that was its intention in 1951.

Accord Averts Strike At Cleveland Schools

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland School Board and custodians union agreed on wages and other issues shortly after midnight, averting a threatened strike that would have closed 180 public schools today.

The custodians who also number 180, are not janitors. They operate boilers and heating units, and if they had struck, school buildings would have been without heat.

They are members of Local 777, International Brotherhood of Firemen and Oilers, AFL-CIO. Originally, they had set a strike deadline of midnight Tuesday, but postponed the walkout for 24 hours while talks continued.

The school board still faces a strike threat over wages from another AFL-CIO group, the 3,000 members of the Cleveland Teachers Union.

The teachers union will meet Monday night to take a strike vote. Their strike deadline is next Thursday.

The chief issue behind the custodians' threatened strike was pay, and union negotiators accepted an agreement that will provide salaries ranging from a minimum of about $7,790 to a maximum of $10,000.

The settlement also provides for establishment of grievance procedures, regular meetings between union officials and school administrators, and one additional week's vacation.

School Supt. Paul W. Briggs announced the settlement which does not have to be voted on by the union membership.

Ohio's Supreme Court Will Air Apportion Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The way was cleared today for an Ohio Supreme Court hearing Feb. 7 on validity of Ohio's legislative apportionment system.

Attorneys for Ohio Senate Minority Leader Frank W. King D-11 Toledo, Lucas, filed their answer brief Thursday in the appeal from a 10th District Court of Appeals decision holding invalid the single-member district plan under which state legislators were elected last year.

The answer charged "the will of the people, as expressed in the Ohio Constitution, has been thwarted and foiled" by the apportionment plan adopted by a Republican - controlled Apportionment Board in September 1965.

A special three-judge federal court held the plan valid under the federal constitution and ordered it used in 1966 as a temporary measure. King's suit challenged the plan under the Ohio Constitution.

The Appellate Court held the plan invalid under the Ohio Constitution, declaring the Apportionment Board's action was illegal, that it could meet only once every 10 years following a federal census. It had apportioned the state in 1961 under a system held unconstitutional by the U.S. Supreme Court.

People In News

WASHINGTON (AP) — Celebrities at Sen. Everett M. Dirksen's 71st birthday celebration included Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Only President Johnson wasn't there Wednesday night — and that wasn't for a lack of trying.

Dirksen told newsmen he telephoned the White House and said: "Tell the President to come at 9 o'clock — that's an order."

Later there was a call from the White House and Dirksen returned to explain that Johnson "had some people there and couldn't get away."

BOSTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's wife, Joan, is expecting a child in June.

A Boston Globe dispatch from Washington quoted a spokesman for Mrs. Kennedy as confirming the impending birth.

The Massachusetts Democrat and his wife have two other children, Kara Anne, 6, and Edward Moore Jr., 5.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Swedish model Ulla Thorssell, 25, has become Mrs. Charles Aznavour.

She and Aznavour, 43, a popular French singer and composer, were married Wednesday.

They said they plan a honeymoon in Los Angeles and New York.

NEW YORK (AP) — It was a farewell "happening" for Thomas P. F. Hoving held in a candy-striped tent in New York's Central Park.

As administrator of recreation and cultural affairs, Hoving has helped put the fun in "Fun City" with imaginative happenings in New York's parks.

Junior Editors Quiz on TEXAS

QUESTION: How did Texas get his name?

ANSWER: Texas is a huge state; you would have to put Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and Michigan together to equal it. Actually, at one time Texas was an independent nation, with a national flag of its own showing one star. After Texas joined the union in 1845, it kept this as its state flag, which is why it is called the Lone Star State. There is an interesting relation between the Texans and the name of the state. Tejas was a word of the Caddo Indian tribe living in northeast Texas when the Spaniards arrived. This word meant friends. The Spanish pronounced this so that it sounded like Texas and so the area got its name. Texans are truly friendly people as strangers who travel through their area find out. Our artist has tried to catch an impression of a big friendly rawboned rancher in this picture. The Texas prairies are among the best areas in the United States for raising cattle, but Texas also produces an immense amount of oil—more than any other state. It also holds first rank among the states in mining.

FOR YOU TO DO: You all have heard of Davey Crockett. Find out how his story relates to that of the state of Texas.

Q.—How can I remove beer stains from washable garments?

A.—Ordinary laundering methods usually do this. In the case of unwashables, a cloth dipped in sudsy water does the trick. If the stains are quite old, add a little ammonia to the wash water.

Q. — How can I add a nice gloss when washing wood floors and woodwork?

A. — By adding three tablespoons of turpentine to your bucket of wash water, then wiping the wood with a clean dry cloth or mop when you've finished. Another method is to add a teaspoon of baking soda to your wash water. Many other such housecleaning tips are included in my new paperback book.

Q.—How can I reshape some of my small artist's brushes?

A.—Worn brushes can be reshaped, or special ones made to suit certain jobs, if you'll soak the bristles in water-soluble glue, shape to a compact mass, and let dry. The rub the bristles over a coarse abrasive paper to form the shape you desire. Remove the glue with hot water.

Q.—What is a formula for a good "homemade" hardwood floor wax?

A.—Half a cake of melted paraffin and a cupful of turpentine makes a good one. Many other such hints for the care and cleaning of floors are handled in my new book.
